

HARRIMAN MAKES A STATEMENT

He Has Had Little Dealing With the Equitable Society.

NEW YORK, April 5.—E. H. Harriman made a statement in reference to the affairs of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. He said he had caused his books to be examined for nearly four years back and found there were no transactions between himself and the Equitable Society other than one loan, which loan was paid off more than a year ago because he was not willing to pay the rate of interest required by the society.

As to the companies in which he is interested, Mr. Harriman said that he had no recollection, nor did he believe that there was any financial transaction between the Society and these companies, either directly or indirectly, nor had any sale of securities been made by any of these companies because of the possibility of the Equitable Society becoming interested therein.

Mr. Harriman further said that many of the bonds now held by the Equitable were evidently purchased through other parties in the open market and probably before he had any interest in the Union Pacific or Central Pacific and allied lines. As to the purchases from Kuhn, Loeb & Co. of certain bonds, he said his company had no interest or connection whatever.

"When this controversy was called to my attention," said Mr. Harriman, "I had my life insured in the Equitable—this was about six weeks ago. I used to carry quite a line of insurance in the Equitable, New York Life, Connecticut Mutual and one or two other companies—I do not recall their names—most of which has expired and been paid."

As to the ownership of stock in the Equitable company, Mr. Harriman declined to state whether he owned stock or not, as he said he would so decline regarding the ownership of the stock of any other company with which he might be connected.

Mr. Harriman said that in discharging his duties as trustee of the Equitable, his position was the same as all other trustees. He had attended meetings, he had heard reports from various committees, such as the auditing committee, the officers of the committee, whom he regarded as trustworthy and in each instance when he was present, those reports, particularly those emanating from the president, were in effect that the society was very prosperous and laudatory as to the loyalty, integrity and energy of all its officers. The last meeting at which the officers' reports were presented, he said, was one about two months previous to the meetings at which the mutualization plan was presented.

"It did not seem possible to me," continued Mr. Harriman, "that such a change could have taken place all in two months."

Jacob H. Schiff of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., has not resigned from the finance committee of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, but he has not attended the committee meetings recently. He said today that he intended to leave the city for a brief holiday today, but was delayed in his departure to attend tomorrow's special meeting of the Equitable directors.

LOOKOUT FOR BIG SHAKEUP

Mayor Mott Using Business Principles on Political Offices.

A mild shake-up may be expected in the City Hall as soon as Mayor Mott has thoroughly digested the report of Expert C. D. Stuart, who was appointed by former Mayor Olney to make a detailed investigation of the various offices at the City Hall.

Expert Stuart has found that all the accounts of the various departments are correct but he makes the suggestion that some of the offices are run on too free a basis.

In one department he cites the fact that in commercial life the same amount of work could be done for $6000, whereas, in the present case it costs more than $10,000.

There are similar suggestions which the Mayor does not feel at liberty to give out.

"I want time to think over the contents of the report before I give it out fully," said Mayor Mott. "There are some suggestions which it would be harmful to give out at the present time. The recommendations are principally along the lines of economy."

Expert Stuart estimates there are $47,000 worth of taxes, which can never be collected by the city. There is for this year $404.10 personal taxes which have not been collected.

During the year the revenue of the city wharf has increased from $510 a month to $822.

MOHAMED'S FOLLOWER IS ARRESTED

Pleads His Case in French, Spanish and English.

Hadij Sadoek Errihan, a follower of Mohamed, a native of Africa, and a peddler of Oriental rugs, nearly turned the court presided over by Police Judge Smith into an Oriental one this morning.

Hadij had taken, before he came to this country, two trips to Mecca to purify his Mohammedan soul.

He was arrested last night, however, by Policeman Mulgrew on a charge of peddling without a license. He exonerated himself by exhibiting to Judge Smith and others a license for which he had paid $10.

"Why am I arrested?" he exclaimed in French. "Does one have to pay for a license and then bribe the officials of this country. By the long beard of Mohamed things are not worse in Morocco."

After exhausting his French, all to no purpose, the Ethiopian started in Spanish.

"These dogs of Christians are great robbers," he said, tugging ferociously at a long brigand moustache. "They rob you first by compelling you to buy a license and then wish you to bribe every policeman to let you peddle. Oh! Allah, in what company have I fallen!"

When the dark-skinned peddler finally got around to the use of English he said, addressing the court:

"Oh, most worshipful Judge, it has been my fault to offend a policeman. It is to you that I look for justice. You are great in learning and exalted for your goodness. I beseech you to look at my license and determine my guilt or innocence."

Judge Smith looked at the license, took verbal testimony from the license inspector and, turned the poetic son of Ham loose.

J. MORGAN SMITH'S STATEMENT

SAYS E TOLD DETECTIVES HE WAS GOING BACK TO NEW YORK.

CINCINNATI, April 5.—The case of J. Morgan Smith and wife was adjourned until next Monday. The attorneys for the Smiths asked the adjournment, simply saying that they wished more time. Bail was fixed at $3000, but was not immediately forthcoming, and the prisoners were taken back to the county jail.

In a long communication to the Times-Star today, J. Morgan Smith, brother-in-law of Nan Patterson, says that when arrested in this city last week, his wife and himself were on their way back to New York, where they expected to arrive in time for the new trial of Miss Patterson next week, and that the detectives who arrested them had been told of this intention.

He says that Detective Alkin first met them three weeks ago and that they had told him of every move they made and of their intention to return to New York. Until two weeks ago, Smith says, he had been working regularly and he denied some of the published reports of mysterious sources of money for his expenses.

SOME SUGGESTIONS ON GRAFT FOR REALTY SYNDICATE ORGAN

How Much Does the Oakland Traction Company Beat the Tax Collector Out of Each Year?—Why There Is an Attempt to Harry All Who Oppose Franchise and Park Jobs.

THE SAFFRON-HUED SAN FRANCISCO "EXAMINER," WHICH HAS WAGED SUCH MALIGNANT AND PERSISTENT WARFARE AGAINST THE BEST INTERESTS OF THE CITY OF OAKLAND; MR. HENRY P. DALTON, MR. HENRY ROGERS AND OTHER PRO-NOUNCED KNOCKERS, ARE NO DOUBT FELICITATING THEMSELVES ON THE DEFEAT OF THE BOND PROPOSAL. AS FOR THE "EXAMINER," IT WILL GET ITS JUST DESERTS IN THE LOSS OF CIRCULATION AND ADVERTISING FROM THOSE LOYAL OAKLANDERS WHO DESPISE ITS BUSHWHACKING METHODS AND DESIRE FOR SENSATIONS, WHILE THE SAN FRANCISCO "CALL," WHOSE GOOD WORK AND ENTHUSIASM IN THE INTERESTS OF OAKLAND WAS SHOWN BY ITS WORK IN FAVOR OF THE BONDS, WILL NO DOUBT REAP A WELL-EARNED REWARD ON THIS SIDE OF THE BAY THROUGH INCREASED CIRCULATION AND MORE ADVERTISING. AS FOR MR. DALTON—WELL, ALL PROFESSIONAL POLITICAL DEMAGOGUES, WHO ARE SIMPLY WORKING IN THEIR OWN INTERESTS WHILE SEEKING TO MAKE THE PUBLIC BELIEVE THEY ARE THEIR ONLY "TRUE AND HONEST" FRIENDS, "GLAD HANDING" VOTERS AT EVERY TURN—GET THEIR JUST DESERTS AT THE POLLS, SOONER OR LATER. HE MAY NOT KNOW IT, BUT HENRY'S TIME IS COMING.—EMERYVILLE OAKLAND HERALD.

The above editorial appeared in the organ of the Realty Syndicate the day after the people of Oakland gave a smashing rebuke at the polls to the scheme of the Syndicate to palm off on Oakland for a park site a tract of unsalable land at four or five times its value. This screed is proof that the mission of the organ is to bark and snap at the heels of all who oppose the predatory schemes of its masters.

Here is a palpable attempt to brow-beat citizens and public officials into compliance with the designs of the gang of manipulators who are trying to exploit everything from street railways to searching of records on this side of the bay.

A citizen of such exceptional probity as Henry Rogers, with his honorable record of forty years in this community, is assailed because he denounced the attempt to "graft" upwards of $200,000 from the taxpayers of this city.

Assessor Dalton is abused because he would not lend himself to this outrageous steal.

Behind the Emeryville Oakland Herald's clamor about excessive rates for county advertising—a clamor that is shown to be false and hypocritical—is a desire of the promoters, who designate themselves by the corporate alias of the Realty Syndicate to revenge themselves on the newspapers that exposed the monstrous graft of the so-called Sather tract park. Also a desire to silence opposition to future schemes of like character.

It is an endeavor to make the people of Oakland and its suburbs take their news and politics from the Realty Syndicate.

If the Emeryville Oakland Herald really desires to expose and stop graft it might devote its attention to urging the Oakland Traction Company to present a sworn statement of the value of its property for taxation purposes. The biggest graft in Alameda county is the evasion of the Traction Company of its just proportion of taxes. It claims to be earning interest on $12,000,000 or $13,000,000, yet it pays taxes on an assessed valuation of less than $2,700,000.

If the Emeryville Oakland Herald desires to abate public wrong, why does it not call attention to the constant refusal of the Oakland Transit Company to comply with the conditions on which its franchises were granted? Three years ago it promised to take up the cable slots on Washington and Fourteenth streets, but the tracks are still there. The company is required by the terms of its franchises to keep the streets between its tracks and three feet on each side in good repair, but it refuses to do so, and endeavors to stifle criticism by instituting a malicious competition against publishers who decline to become accessories to its criminal defiance of the law.

Why does not the Oakland Emeryville Herald rebuke its masters for their failure to redeem their oft repeated promises to reconstruct the dilapidated street car lines in Alameda and give the people of that city a decent service, which it obligated itself to do when it obtained the privilege of using the streets for its own profit?

Why does the Traction Company refuse to put in proper condition the crazy and dangerous line to San Leandro and Haywards? Its tracks occupy a public road made with the money of taxpayers, yet after being donated this roadbed ready-made the company maintains a service that is both unsafe and unsatisfactory.

The Emeryville Oakland Herald might also call on the Grand Jury to call its masters to a stern account for daily endangering the lives of thousands of passengers over the Key Route Ferry by running its trains over a frail and decrepit trestle 17,000 feet long, which threatens to collapse at every trip?

It might also expose the scheme of the Realty Syndicate to move the City Hall far away from the business center to the edge of town, in the interest of a private real estate speculation.

It might show up the scheme already incubated to steal the county roads for roadbeds for projected electric railways throughout the interior.

It might explain to the public how every available street is being grabbed by the Traction Company and every approach to the city closed to the entrance of any other railroad.

If the Emeryville Oakland Herald desires to expose graft it might explain how the defunct Home Benefit Association, whose victims are scattered all over the Pacific Coast, came to be wrecked while the patron of the Syndicate's organ, Frank C. Havens, was president and manager of the concern.

It might explain the methods by which $4,500,000 unsecured notes of hand were peddled out in various parts of the world to get money to buy property which was immediately mortgaged to the banks.

It might explain how private fortunes were built up and elegant mansions erected from the profits of collusive sales of real estate, the financing being done with money borrowed on unsecured notes of hand.

It might give the public an inside view of frenzied finance by showing how Frank M. Smith organized the tariff-protected borax industry into a trust and then sold it out to European speculators.

It might show how the Realty Syndicate, which blew into it the breath of life, has butted into nearly every branch of business in Alameda county; how it has tried to drive the searchers of records out of business and striven to grab the street contracting business to the injury of established firms engaged in the business.

Again, it might show how its agents have blocked plans of street improvement in order to harass legitimate contracting firms.

It might explain how much the city and county lose by the Syndicate gang beating the taxes on seven or eight millions of property, the value of which is largely derived from franchises.

While about it the Emeryville Herald might explain by whom it is financed and the purpose for which it was founded to serve; also why it is trying to harass and cripple the business, by illegitimate methods, of legitimate journals long established in the community.

There are many other things it might explain regarding the schemes and practices of its masters, to the profit of the public, but if it will devote even a portion of its time and attention to the line of inquiry above suggested it will disclose the most gigantic scheme of graft ever exploited in any country.

G. MOSBACHER DENOUNCES THE HERALD'S FAKE INTERVIEW ON PRINTING.

Oakland, Cal., April 5, 1905.

Editor TRIBUNE: In the Oakland Herald last evening there appeared the following alleged interview with me:

"I am sorry I signed THE TRIBUNE'S petition, but it is too late now, and I do not care to commit myself further. The man who came here with the petition misrepresented the true conditions. He told me that his paper was the lowest bidder, and, of course, I favored giving the work to the one whose figures were the lowest."

I desire to state that the interview with me is garbled and untrue. I signed the petition of the OAKLAND TRIBUNE in good faith. I stand by my signature, and believe that the course I have pursued is for the best interests of the county. I believe every man should receive fair and just compensation for his goods. THE TRIBUNE is a great newspaper. It has done much for this county, and I believe it should receive fair and just treatment from the Superintendents. When the four leading papers of San Francisco declare that the rates for printing are fair and just, I cannot but believe that such is the case.

G. MOSBACHER.

PAINTER DECLARES TRIBUNE IS GREATEST EVENING PAPER IN THE COUNTRY.

Miles Doody, painter and dealer in paints and oils and ex-Fire Warden—I have fought W. E. Dargie politically in many of the local campaigns, but I believe that today he is publishing in THE TRIBUNE the best evening paper that is published in the United States. It follows that his paper should have a large circulation and that it should charge an advertising price commensurate with its service. I have nothing to say about the competitors of THE TRIBUNE, but I do say that the paper of large circulation should receive the public advertising, as against papers of less circulation that do not reach the people. That is primarily what advertising is for—to reach all classes of people.

I have been a resident of Oakland for forty-one years and during many of those years I have been a taxpayer in five of the seven wards. As a taxpayer I am satisfied with the rates fixed by the Supervisors. I believe them to be fair and just.

The Board of Supervisors usually do things well. The Court House was built about twenty-three years ago. I painted it then and it did not need another coat of paint for eleven years. They gave me a fair price and I gave them the best material I could buy. It is the same with the advertising. They pay a fair price and they get the best of service.

UNION MAN DOES NOT BELIEVE IN ANY CUT-THROAT METHODS.

F. C. Joslyn, union man—I formerly made a living by soliciting advertising for newspapers. At that time I was considered an expert in the advertising line and competition was then keener than it is at present.

I have, in my time, received more than THE TRIBUNE rates for newspapers that had nothing like the circulation of that paper. In my opinion—and I believe I am qualified to express it as an expert—the rates fixed by the Supervisors are not only not exorbitant, but, on the contrary, are fair and reasonable. I do not believe in cut-rates.

PERRY CONWELL DECLARES THE SUPERVISORS HAVE BEEN FAIR.

Perry Conwell, ex-president Federated Trades and former State Organizer of the International Bartenders' and Cooks' and Waiters' Unions—The Realty Syndicate has a monopoly of the street car service of the city. It has tried, and is trying, to create a monopoly of the ferry service. It is going further now, and is attempting to grab the public printing by underbidding its legitimate competitors.

I am not against the Realty Syndicate. I give it credit for what it has done for the city and I hope, for the sake of the poor people that have invested, that its bonds are worth their face value; but there is reason in all things. Let the Syndicate work along reasonable lines, take the goods the gods have given it and be content. I am familiar with advertising rates and believe that those fixed by the Supervisors are fair.

If the newspapers, as well as individuals, would work harmoniously for the common good, then Oakland would progress more rapidly than it has in the past. It has progressed remarkably, notwithstanding the inward strife and we should all pull together for progress and prosperity. The jealousy of one journal should not make it fight another to the detriment of the public interests. The Supervisors know what they are doing; they have fixed a fair rate in an impartial manner and we should abide by their decision.

NAME OF A. JONAS AUTHORIZED ON PETITION TO SUPERVISORS.

Editor TRIBUNE: The name of A. Jonas, the Hub Clothing House, was signed to THE TRIBUNE petition by myself in the absence of my father, A. Jonas, who is now in the East. This was done in pursuance of authority given to me by him before his departure, for the purpose of conducting the business of the Hub clothing during his absence. The signature was given with a full understanding of the meaning of the petition.

IRVING JONAS,
Manager Hub Clothing Store.

MONEY MARKET GETTING BETTER IN EAST.

Talk of Peace Strengthens Matters — Henry Clews Views of the Situation.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Henry Clews gives the following views on the money market:

The drift of values on the Stock Exchange during the week was as a rule irregularly downwards. Occasional rallies, based chiefly upon short covering, gave the market a temporary appearance of strength; but widespread liquidation was quite evident. An important factor in the market was that some of the leading interests parted with considerable amounts of stocks at recent high prices, and consequently quietly encouraged the decline to admit of buying them back at remunerative prices. March is usually a month favoring such operations, lower condition of bank reserves, temporary flurries in money and the calling in of loans all favoring bearish manipulation. A large portion of the professional traders, always an influential element in the situation, have also lately favored lower prices for the reason that at the recent high level speculative operations on the bull side offered inadequate profits compared with the risk. These are all temporary influences, yet for the time being they are uppermost in spite of satisfactory conditions outside of the stock market. A decline of 5 to 10 points has already taken place in some of the active shares, but this is not much in view of the extraordinary heights to which values have risen during the last twelve months. While the reaction has been greatest in these high-priced securities there has been little depreciation in other classes. An irregular market may be expected, during a brief period at least; or until the April settlements are adjusted and bank reserves begin to rise again. Last week the surplus reserve was down to $5,000,000, compared with $27,000,000 a year ago, and the probability is that had it not been for a severe contraction in loans the surplus would have been nearly if not entirely erased. This week an unfavorable bank statement is anticipated, due to withdrawals of Government funds and April settlements; but much depends upon the showing in the loan item, stock market liquidation suggesting further shrinkage in that quarter. Subscriptions to the Japanese loan, however, brought in considerable funds from out of town.

BETTER RATES.

Indications point to somewhat better rates for money in the near future. The large new capital issues of one sort or another are making heavy inroads upon the surplus capital. Several hundred millions of new bonds have been issued since January 1st, and this process cannot go on indefinitely without tending to depress security values later on and to open money rates. Fortunately the situation abroad is favorable to American finances. Europe is better disposed towards our securities than for many years; American credit stands high, any importation of money from abroad would quickly start gold imports. There is, however, little prospect of the latter now. In fact, we are more likely to ship considerable amounts of gold in payment of the Japanese bonds, the decline of produce shipments and our large imports strengthening this probability. Another influence in the money market will be the withdrawal of Government deposits, estimated at the billions of dollars, to disintegrate the extreme ease of money in the past is hardly likely to be repeated during the coming months, especially when crop-moving demands begin.

TALK OF PEACE.

Peace rumors strengthen week by week, for while Russia may reject all overtures for a time, just for effect, it is certain the end is not far distant. Russia's finances are near the exhaustion point, and France, her best friend, has refused further assistance. Contrast Russia's credit with Japan's. Russia has issued only about $50,000,000 bonds during the war, but has lost over $100,000,000 in the war. Japan, on the other hand, has issued about $450,000,000 bonds, including this week's loan, which was subscribed many times the first day offered; while Japanese issues are steadily rising, partly owing to success in the field and partly because their credit was undiminished at beginning of the war. What the effects of ending the war will be it is difficult to foresee. There will undoubtedly be a rapid expansion of commerce and industry in the Far East; Japan will recuperate quickly; but how Paris will get over the strain now endured remains to be proved. When the war is over there will be a great demand for support Russian bonds, and they may rise when the war is over. The London market is heavily loaded. Fortunately Europe and France especially, is enjoying prosperity and is better able than usual to withstand a crisis; but the danger point is by no means past, and that is why France refused assistance to her ally. It should also be remembered that London did not recover immediately from effects of the Boer war both depression and recovery being much delayed. Only recently has London emerged from the shadow of that conflict.

Now sunlight begins to shine for the first time since the war period, and is reflected not only upon the money market but also upon the general business situation. The announcement that peace would certainly have an exhilarating effect here as well as all over the world, especially in the Far East, is a source of great benefit to the other European nations. France may not unlikely desire to see a financial alliance with Russia, a financial way rather than bear any greater burden, and in that event it may be instrumental in her shifting her present alliance from Russia to England. If France ceases to help Russia financially, Germany, who has been comparatively neutral in the war, will be of greater service to Russia, and the door may be opened thereby for a Russian-German alliance. This would be a great benefit to the other European nations. AFTER THE BAY CITIES COMPANY

WATER SINKS AT GORGE AND SUPPLIES STREAMS OF VALLEY.

SAN JOSE, April 5.—In the restraining suit of the fruit growers against the Bay Cities Water Company, today expert testimony was introduced as to the geological formation of Santa Clara Valley, to prove the inter-connection of the underground streams, the pressure of the water in the gravel strata, and the source or sources of supply for that portion of the Valley lying north of the company's works at the Coyote gorge.

The chief witness on these points was Dr. J. C. Branner, of Stanford University, who testified that the water that sinks at the gorge comes through it and supplies the underground streams of the Valley.

DEFENSE SCORES IN MINING CASE

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Ia., April 5.—The defense scored a point in the Portland mining case today when minutes of a meeting held by the company in October, 1904, were introduced, showing that the salaries of himself as manager and James Doyle, assistant manager, were at that time raised to $800 a month. Burns testified yesterday that in the latter part of 1904 when Doyle transferred stock to himself in order to escape injunction process, Doyle had no other source of revenue than his dividends.

On redirect examination today Burns said that answers filed in his name in Colorado suits, containing pleadings at variance with his present contentions, were prepared by attorneys without his sanction.

LAWYERS.

Lawyers are men with glib feints in trouble and then change to plain whetters and get them out or not, lawyers is of 2 kinds:

1. good lawyers.
2. cheap lawyers.

The cheap lawyers cost you more than the good lawyers, the only trouble is that you never know the good lawyers till you try them and then maybe they ain't very good after all. Lawyers are made in 2 ways. One kind goes to college and plays foot ball & the other kind works for a lawyer at night. Mister Lincoln was the last kind and the first kind is easy to find anywhere, you can get them to try a case for you for any day. Sum of them is good, tho, but not a grate many.

Lawyers get mad at each other when they are trying a case, but after the case is over they call each other old Scotch and say, "Let's go in & have a drink. Then they stay there till they have 8 more drinks and then they call each other "dere old chum."

TYRANNY COMES HIGH.

All told, Russia has sixty-five Grand Dukes, counting the members of the imperial family. The Czar's uncles and brothers receive an annual pension of 4,000,000 rubles each.

From the day of his birth a Grand Duke's child becomes entitled to an annual pension of 1,000 rubles if a boy, 500,000 rubles if a girl. The revenue of the existing Grand Dukes exempt from all taxation amounts to a grand total of fourteen millions.

To nationalize the country would mean the wiping out of the entire debt of Russia and relieve the country of all taxation for a year, without diminishing the normal expenditures.

When the Czar Nicholas married, the danseuse Kaccinskaya, who was charged with amusing his leisure moments, received as a present 4,000,000 rubles and a palace.—Le Cri de Paris.

HENCE OUR MARMALADE.

This is rather sweet information if one is a marmalade. There is an old legend which relates that when Mary, Queen of Scots, was detained a prisoner at Lochleven, she became more and more ill and, and nothing seemed to tempt her appetite. A Scotch confectioner at that time was inspired to make a jam of oranges and a sample was sent to Her Majesty, which she so much relished that she was dedicated to her memory as "Marie Malade." Hence our marmalade.—Boston Herald.

JAIL AS A HEALTH RESORT.

Whether any one is released from jail after a long sentence we read that while he was in poor or downright bad health when he entered, he comes out as healthy as a brick. Yet almost without exception jails are unsanitary, sunless places, with no facilities for proper exercise. The mystery lies in two words—regularity and diet.—Philadelphia Post.

SHRINES IN MOROCCO.

A traveler says that Christians in Morocco look with suspicion on the shrines of Mohammedan saints in that country. He tells the following story: "Once upon a time a boy was traveling through the country. He came to a shrine and found himself near a whitewashed tomb. Knocking at the door of the shrine, he asked for a meal and a bed. When the next day dawned he was about to continue his journey, but the keeper of the shrine besought him to remain, in order to help him keep the shrine and collect the offerings of the faithful. The youth said that he must first consult his parents and the older men before he could do so. The boy took the ass and rode away, but he had not accomplished half the journey before the ass fell sick and died. Then the boy knew not what to do nor where to turn. But when he had considered the circumstances of his case a brilliant idea flashed into his mind.

"Having dug a pit and cast the ass therein, he piled great stones over it, whitening them with lime and set a white flag above, saying to all who passed by, 'This is the tomb of Saint So-and-so.' Then the worshippers came from every side, and he poured his offerings and came to visit the new saint. He, who the crowd had gone to approach, the young shrine-keeper, 'I ask thee by Allah,' said the old man, 'who is this saint of thine and what manner of thing is buried here?'

"I will deceive thee," but will tell thee the truth," returned the youth. 'My saint who is buried here is none other than thy beast, even the carcass of thine own ass. And now, pray, who is thy saint, and who is buried in the shrine thou keepest?' 'I will not deceive thee, but will tell thee the truth,' replied the old man; 'my saint is the father of thy saint!'

THE NEW POSTAL RATE.

In sending a four-pound parcel by mail in the United States after April 1st money can be saved by getting a friend to take it to London in his trunk to be mailed from that point. The domestic postal charge is 64 cents, but only 19 cents from Great Britain. Congress appears to be in a confused state of mind on this subject.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

SUNDAY PASTIME IN KANSAS.

The latest pastime in Kansas is to go to church on Sunday when there is no dog fight on and count the number of times the people in the congregation cough. Two people play the game, each going to a different church. The one with the highest score at the end of the sermon has to take the other over to the drug store.—Springfield Republican.

DID MORGAN SMITHS BLACKMAIL YOUNG?

Affidavit Says They Conspired to Extort Money From the Emeryville Bookmaker.

CINCINNATI, April 5.—The adjourned hearing in the habeas corpus writs for J. Morgan Smith and wife, held under New York indictments for conspiracy with Nan Patterson, to extort money from Caesar Young, the bookmaker, was set for this afternoon before Judge Spiegel of the Common Pleas Court.

The Police Court case was adjourned until Friday to put the disposal of the habeas corpus matter prior to any other action, and the attorneys for both sides spent the interval in preparing for what they regarded as a test of the whole case of the arrest and extradition of the Smiths.

The first affidavit which charged conspiracy to murder was replaced by the new one giving the charge of conspiracy to extort money, quoting with verbal exactness from the copy of the New York indictment which had arrived since the swearing out of the earlier affidavit.

MEETS DEATH IN RUNAWAY

Haywards Barber Breaks His Neck in Trying to Escape.

HAYWARDS, April 5.—Attempting to escape injury in a runaway accident on the Mt. Eden road, just outside the town limits, this morning, Joseph Bernardo, a barber of this place, leaped from the wagon and fell on the hard thoroughfare, breaking his neck. His death was almost instantaneous.

The deceased was about forty-five years of age, was in the barbering trade here for about twenty years, and leaves a wife and several children living here.

In company with Manuel Nunes, Bernardo left this morning for Mt. Eden, driving a light wagon. They had hardly left the town limits before the horse was frightened by a bit of fluttering paper, and dashed over the roadway. Strive as he would, Bernardo was unable to check the animal's flight.

As the runaway rounded a curve in the road, Nunes was thrown from his seat, but escaped with only a shaking up and a few bruises.

Shortly after Nunes fell from the rig, Bernardo, seeing that he could not stop the runaway, leaped out. He miscalculated the speed, however, and fell, striking on his head.

The dead body was found shortly afterwards by Nunes, who, after his fall, had started out to trace the runaway.

The deputy coroner has taken charge of the remains and will hold an inquest.

ESTATE MATTERS

Letters of administration on the estate of the late Frances G. Jewell were granted to J. Jewell this morning by Judge O'Connell, and Clarence Reed, Ross Bromley and John A. Beckwith were appointed appraisers of the estate.

Petition to open a tombstone over the grave of the late Kate Hyde has been made by W. J. Hayes, who states that there is no stone that marks the resting place of deceased, and that the heirs-at-law have requested him to expand the sum of $500 for this purpose.

An inventory and appraisal of the estate of the late Honora Wallace has been filed by Ross Bromley, Whipple Hall and John A. Beckwith, who state the property is worth $1,233.82, and consists of several small pieces of property.

Petition and request of the will of the late Oscar J. Backus of Berkeley was filed this morning by Anna M. Backus, who states that the value of the estate is unknown, but that she has a claim of $10,000 and consists of real property in Berkeley and shares in the George H. H. Company.

By an order of court this morning, Edwin Meese, administrator of the estate of the late Henry H. Meyer, taking his mission to sell the undertaking business of deceased at 255 Washington street to Robert Schuler for the sum of $4000.

AMBASSADOR MEYER LEAVES FOR RUSSIA.

PARIS, April 5.—Ambassador Meyer left here today for St. Petersburg. Before his departure Meyer met Foreign Minister Delcasse by appointment at the Foreign Office. The details of their conversation naturally have not been disclosed, but there is the best reason to believe that Meyer is taking his duties at St. Petersburg led to a general exchange between him and Delcasse relative to the existing political situation and the prospects. However, the meeting was informal and unimportant except in an opportunity for a mutual understanding upon various questions involved.

ITALY WELCOMES EMPEROR WILLIAM.

NAPLES, April 5.—Emperor William arrived here today on board the steamer Hamburg amidst the booming of cannon and ringing of bells from thousands gathered about the harbor and in steamers, sailing craft and rowboats to greet him while the Italian and German officers waved everywhere. The Duke of Aosta, eldest cousin of King Victor Emmanuel, went immediately on board the Emperor's yacht, and the Emperor himself went to the harbor to see him. Emperor William replied that he never feels so much at home as when he is in Italy.

CARNegie MEDAL FOR BRAVE GIRL.

DES MOINES, Ia., April 5.—For saving the life of a companion sailor from drowning last winter, Miss Lucina Steele, a young girl of the story does not attempt to answer in the play. The principal character in both book and play is known as "The Virginian" that is all.

Mr. La Shelle may have his own idea as to the identity of the Virginian; but he may have had a private hint from the author, if he has, that is between the novelist and dramatist, and they keep it to themselves. The main point in the novel is kept up from rise to fall of curtain and that every character is as clearly drawn in the drama as in the novel. The play will be the bill at the Macdonough on Monday, April 10. Seats are now on sale.

SYNDICATE GRABS STREETS IN NORTH OAKLAND.

People Are Up in Arms Against Outrageous Acts of the Corporation.

There is a feeling of indignation entertained by the people resident in a part of North Oakland, because of the arbitrary manner in which they have been practically deprived of their property rights by the Realty Syndicate in the closing up of the streets upon which their homes are located.

The Syndicate in question has built a fence from Center to Louisa street, which absolutely prevents people on Center, Eltie, Hanna and Louisa streets and the public generally who want to use those thoroughfares, from farther north than the Emery tract line.

As a consequence, people who desire to reach or travel on Yerba Buena avenue by means of those streets, are prevented from doing so, except in a round-about way and at a great loss of time. This depreciates the value of property for the gratification of this corporation.

This inconvenience is great in itself, but it is of little moment when taken in consideration with the fact that the closing of the streets in question has been accomplished by the Realty Syndicate regardless of the rights of people who for years have been residing on the streets in question. It means a confiscation of the property to satisfy the greed of an organization which has no feeling for landholders because they are poor and feel that they cannot make a fight against a corporation which derives its money from innocent investors in certificates which have no security.

Speaking on the subject, today, N. J. Herby, a resident of Eltie street, whose property has been injured by this arbitrary action on the part of the Realty Syndicate, said:

"There is a very strong public sentiment in the northwestern part of Oakland against the Realty Syndicate and it salutes on account of their having shown bad faith to the people in that neighborhood in having closed a number of streets without permission or authority whatever."

"They had also promised to open and improve Center street, and for two years not one spadeful of earth has been turned for that purpose. The people have lost faith in the integrity of the syndicate and are about to institute legal proceedings to open Halleck, Horton and Holden streets, which have been illegally and unjustly closed by this corporation. Property has been sold on those streets with the understanding that they were open and public streets and have been traveled for twenty-five years, but that fact has received no consideration from the Realty Syndicate, which found it to its advantage to close the streets at will. I hope that some steps will be taken by the Council to protect us in our rights. Recently Mr. Storer opened Emery and Watts streets against the protest of the Realty Syndicate. He threatened them with a law suit and thus forced them to take down their fence. This is a case of land-grabbing on the part of the Realty Syndicate which has no parallel that I know of in this section."

The deeds of the defendant may have been filed on December 23, their order was given them on December 19, four days before that date. To this the Building and Loan has replied that the mechanics lien can only date from the time of the delivery of the material on the premises. Fuller & Company claim that it had to do considerable work on the order before it was delivered, and that its claim dates from the time it began the work in its establishment.

While it is admitted that the decision of the Judge, the matters were submitted this morning without argument.

IS TRUST DEED A MORTGAGE?

SUITS BROUGHT BY FULLER & COMPANY UP TO JUDGE FOR DECISION.

The question of whether a trust deed is a mortgage and whether a mechanics lien begins to run from the date of the ordering of the work or the time that the work is actually begun to be delivered on the premises are the points upon the decision of which eight or ten suits brought by W. P. Fuller & Company of San Francisco against Woodward, Watson & Company now depend. The Phoenix Building and Loan Association is also interested in the cases and in reality is the real defendant, as it holds trust deeds to the property and is the virtual owner instead of Woodward, Watson & Company. A number of the cases were brought up before Judge S. P. Hall this morning and he has taken them under advisement.

The trouble began over the ordering of a large number of windows for some buildings erected by Woodward, Watson & Company on a part of the Tubbs estate in East Oakland. There is no question over the performance of the work, but Fuller & Company have never been able to get their pay for the material furnished to them, and filed mechanics liens upon the property, which when they attempted to foreclose were resisted by the Phoenix Building and Loan upon the ground that they held trust deeds to the premises, which antedated the mechanics liens and take priority over them.

In answer to the claim made by the Building and Loan Association that its trust deeds, which were recorded on December 25, 1903, the Fuller & Company through its attorneys, Snook & Church and John W. Steison, have replied that the trust deed in the first place is not a mortgage in that it requires the filing of certain notices which the Building Company failed to do. They also claim that while

HELD TO ANSWER FOR KIDNAPPING

John McMeekin of Berkeley was held by Justice of the Peace Quinn this morning to answer to a charge of kidnapping Teddy Lents and Victor Wise, two small boys of Berkeley before the Superior Court.

McMeekin formerly owned a cigar store in Berkeley on Shattuck avenue but sold out his business and on a trip he took to San Jose he allowed the two boys to ride with him to that city where he left them to follow their own will.

The action has been brought by the parents of the two boys who claim that McMeekin had offered to get them work on a race track and that he sent them to the "White Hart" McCarthy out to the Emeryville track where he was given work exercising race horses.

While it is admitted that there is no great amount of evidence against McMeekin Deputy District Attorney Hynes stated that the Justice had seen to it that McMeekin tell his tale to a jury.

MAN AND HIS HOME BLOWN INTO BITS. CHARGE MURDER

TUCSON, A. T., April 5.—A. C. Lamb, superintendent of the Tres Amigos mine, has been blown to pieces by an infernal machine while asleep in his house at the edge of town.

Several sticks of dynamite were placed under a corner of the house and a five-foot fuse attached.

When it was exploded the house and contents were scattered all over the hillside.

Fragments of Lamb's body were found at places a half mile apart. Lamb's wife and family were in the East on a visit.

At the Coroner's inquest a verdict of murder by persons unknown was returned, but arrests are expected to follow.

Lamb had been involved in several bitter disputes about mining property, and it is presumed one of his enemies made in these quarrels committed the deed.

A strict investigation is being made.

WAS WARNED OF HIS DANGER

TESTIMONY IS COMPLETED IN SUIT AGAINST 'PHONE COMPANY.

The trial of the suit of Joanna Horton against the Sunset Telephone & Telegraph Company for $37,800 damages on account of the death of her husband, who was killed by taking hold of the telephone wires running down the side of his house in East Oakland, was finished this morning so far as taking testimony in the case is concerned.

The theory of the defense as presented by Attorney De Golla, Chapman and Pillsbury for the Telephone Company has been that Horton was a trespasser upon the company's property when he took hold of the wires and that the company cannot be held accountable for accidents where people willfully take hold of them. A statement was made shortly after the accident by W. E. Stanley the "troubleman" for the company who visited the Horton home to see what was causing the complaints was brought out by Attorney Stanley Moore upon the cross-examination of the witness in which it stated that the telephone had been spitting fire and ringing the bell and that he told Mrs. Horton she had better keep away from the wires. Mrs. Horton said that she had told her husband to keep away from it but that he would not listen to her and had said that he could cut the wires as well as any one else.

The question of argument is one that has not yet been determined upon. At the close of the evidence of Attorney Stanley Moore on the part of Mrs. Horton waived the arguments in the case if the other side would consent to do the same. Attorney De Golla, who stated that the offer had taken him somewhat by surprise and he asked that the case might go over until this afternoon so that he could have a chance to consult as to what was best to do in the matter.

A Dollar's Worth Free To Any Rheumatic Sufferer

I ask no deposit—no reference—no security. There is nothing to risk—nothing to promise—nothing to pay—nothing to lose or later. Any rheumatic sufferer who does not know my remedy may have a full dollar's worth free to try.

I willingly make this offer because I know that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Remedy may be relied upon ALWAYS to bring the utmost relief that medicine can give before I discover this remedy, I studied the nature of Rheumatism. For Rheumatism is really

Crystalized Poison!

Your blood is always full of poison—the poison you eat and drink and breathe into your system. It is the purpose of the blood to absorb and carry off this very poison. And the kidneys, which are the blood filters, are expected to cleanse the blood and send it back through the system clean, to gether more poison which they, in turn, will eliminate.

But sometimes the kidneys fail. And sometimes the blood is so full of poison that they cannot absorb it. This is the start of Rheumatism. The poison accumulates in the system. The crystals look like little grains of sugar or of fine white sand. The blood carries them and they increase in size. Then, when it can carry them no longer, it deposits them in a joint—on a bone—anywhere.

The twinge in your leg—the dull ache in your arm on a rainy day—these are the outward signs of the unseen crystals and the twisted limbs and unspeakable anguish of the sufferer who has allowed his symptoms to go unheeded and unattended for years—the evidence of what Rheumatism, neglected, can do. Rheumatism includes lumbago, sciatica, neuritis, gout, and all these are the result of rheumatic poison in the blood.

Plainly the first thing to do is to remove the poison. But this is not enough. The formation of the poison must be stopped, so that nature may have a chance to dissolve and eliminate the crystals which have already formed. Unless this is done there can be no cure—no permanent relief.

I searched the whole earth for a specific for Rheumatism—something that I, as a physician, could feel safe in prescribing—something that we could count on not to cause any harm. I found it. For the victims of Rheumatism are everywhere and genuine relief is rare.

Mild cases are sometimes cured by a single package—On sale at forty thousand drug stores.

settle itself in a short time. We intend to take no aggressive steps for a while yet, and if there should be a strike or lockout, which we do not anticipate, we will turn the matter over to the Central Labor Council to settle.

"Although four of the workers at the place have resigned their positions, it has not been by the order or request of the union. In case the owners should decide to turn out all the union employees and run by 'unfair' help alone, I think they will find considerable difficulty in securing satisfactory workers."

FUNNY CLOWNS ARE WITH THIS SHOW.

The Norris & Rowe greater circus have engaged the services of twenty clowns this season to amuse the children. These famous fun-makers out up such absurd monkey shins and are so grotesque in appearance as to bring forth shrieks of laughter from the little ones.

These foolish fellows burlesque everything they can lay their hands to and have as companions, clown dogs, clown monkeys, a tiny clown bear and clown shelling ponies. They make a most amusing appearance dressed in their motley garb.

There are all sizes and shapes of the fools and the capers they cut are most amusing. Their laughter is infectious and Norris & Rowe believe if they can make a child laugh they have accomplished a worthy mission in life for in the latter there are real troubles enough and it would appear to be a duty that parents owe their little ones to make them look back up a happy childhood.

When parents do this, they can rest assured that their children will always hold their memory with deepest affection and reverence.

The Norris & Rowe greater circus will exhibit in Oakland Saturday, April 8th, 9th and 10th, and the big white tent will be located at the circus grounds on San Pablo avenue.

IMPROVEMENT CLUB.

Certain Relief

The secret lay in a wonderful chemical I found in Germany. When I found this chemical, I knew that I could make this Rheumatic cure that would be practically certain. But even then, before I made an announcement—before I was willing to put my name on it—I made more than 2000 tests! And my failures were but 2 per cent.

This German chemical is not the only remedy I have found. I have found a Cure—but it made the remedy possible—made possible an achievement which, I doubt not, could have been made in no other way.

This chemical was very expensive. The duty, too, was high. In all it cost me $4.50 per pound. But what is $4.50 per pound when I could make this most painful disease? For a REAL relief from the greatest torture human beings know?

I don't mean that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure can turn bony joints into flesh again—that is impossible. But it will drive from the blood the poison that causes pain and swelling—the end of the suffering—the end of Rheumatism. That is why I can afford to make this liberal offer—that is why I can afford to spend the FIRST dollar that Rheumatic sufferers the world over may learn of my remedy.

Simply Write Me

The offer is open to everyone everywhere, who has not tried my remedy. But you must write ME for the free dollar package order. I will send you an order on your druggist which he will accept by cashing it as he will accept a dollar. He will hand you from his shelves a standard sized package and he will send the bill to me. There are no conditions—no requirements. All that I ask you to do is to write—write today. I will send you my book on Rheumatism beside. It is free. It will help you to understand your case. # CREDIT IS DUE GERMANY

Emperor is Responsible for the Neutrality of China.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—That it was upon the suggestion of Emperor William that President Roosevelt last February undertook to arrange certain actions on the present neutral powers for the purpose of inducing the belligerents in the Far-Eastern war to respect the neutrality of China, is for the first time officially disclosed in the advance sheets of Foreign Relations made public at the State Department today.

It has been hinted for a long time that the German Emperor was the initiative force in these important exchanges, but it has until now been impossible to obtain any official confirmation of the fact.

In the correspondence with Germany is included a paraphrase of a cablegram addressed by Secretary Hay to Mr. Tower, the American Ambassador at Berlin, on February 15, after Germany's acceptance of the invitation of Secretary Hay had been received direct from the Ambassador to convey to the Emperor the President's profound appreciation of his generous initiative and powerful co-operation in the matter of Chinese neutrality.

The official paraphrase of Mr. Tower's reply dated February 17, reads: "Mr. Tower reports that he conveyed to the Emperor the profound appreciation of the President of his initiative and co-operation in the matter of Chinese neutrality, and that the Emperor was exceedingly gratified and expressed most friendly sentiments toward the President."

It is significant that in the acknowledgment of the acceptance by the other powers of the program suggested by Secretary Hay in his note of February 8, only in the case of Germany did the President send a personal message of appreciation to the sovereign.

"It is not possible to state that the reason Germany's initiative was kept secret was because of the German Emperor's suggestion about Chinese neutrality would be the more certain of success if emanating from Washington, particularly in view of Secretary Hay's previous activities in the same direction after the Boxer troubles of 1900. Accordingly, his suggestion was conveyed to the President through Speck von Sternberg, the German Ambassador. Secretary Hay returned at once from the South and after a conference with the President and the German Ambassador, undertook the far-reaching diplomatic move to which is due the fact that China's neutrality has thus far been for the most part respected by Russia and Japan."

PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY.

NEW YORK, April 5.—Three small creditors have filed a petition in bankruptcy against the International Mahogany Company, organized sixteen months ago with a capital stock of $3,500,000 to exploit large tracts of mahogany timber in Cuba and Mexico. Judge Holt of the United States District Court appointed John B. Lord receiver of the assets with a bond of $2,500.

Counsel for the creditors stated that the company owns a large tract of land near Calbarren and Moron, Cuba, in which $200,000 has been invested and that bonds have been issued on the property to the Knickerbocker Trust Company, which now holds a mortgage on all the assets of the company in Cuba. The company has a large amount of mahogany wood at Green Point, Brooklyn, on which liens have been given for money advanced to the amount of $50,000, held by four banks, including Mobile, Alabama, and Cincinnati (Ohio) institutions. The free assets (on the suit of the company) furniture valued at $1,000. The attorneys said that it was hard to estimate what the possible equity of the company might be in the lands in Cuba and Mexico, being in foreign countries cannot be taken by the receiver appointed here. Officials of the company expect to reorganize and pay its debts.

FREE EXHIBIT Making Shredded Wheat

You have seen them spin cotton, but did you ever see them "spin" wheat?

At 534 Twelfth street you can see the novel and interesting process of drawing cooked whole wheat kernels into fine shreds, and forming the shreds into BISCUIT and TRISCUIT, just as it is done in beautiful Natural Food Conservatory at Niagara Falls.

LECTURES ON COOKERY.

Daily at 2 p. m. by Miss Carolyn A. Jenkins at which time there will be dishes prepared and served. Each lady in attendance will be presented with a souvenir Cook Book.

Do not fail to see how they make shredded wheat while the plant is in the city.

HIGHWAYMEN ROB WATCHMAN, THEN DISAPPEAR IN AN AUTOMOBILE HE WAS GUARDING

LOS ANGELES, April 5.—Two unknown highwaymen held up the night watchman at the Worthington Garage at Fourth and Los Angeles streets early this morning, compelled him to hand over his pistol and all the money on his person, ordered him to run out one of the machines, and after taking the watchman two blocks distant, threw him out and drove the machine away in the darkness.

Police searched the city for several hours following, but failed to find any trace either of the men or the machine. The men showed a perfect knowledge of the automobile and were evidently experienced chauffeurs. It is expected that the machine will be found abandoned some place in the city. It is valued at $3,500.

MRS. MARY D. POTTER IS DEAD; HAD LIVED HERE HALF CENTURY

Mrs. Mary D. Potter, who has been a resident of this city for the last fifty-one years, died yesterday afternoon at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. C. L. De Mont, 330 Jackson street.

The deceased had resided in this country since she was a little child, having come from Ireland when she was but two years of age. For more than half a century she had resided in this city.

For the last few years she had been leading a retired life, owing to her advanced age. Formerly she was prominently connected with church matters. Her funeral will be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock from the First Baptist Church.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH RELIANCE CLUB AFFAIRS

SON OF BERKELEY ATTORNEY DRAGGED BY HIS MOTOR MACHINE.

WILL ROLD MINSTREL SHOW DURING MONTH OF MAY.

BERKELEY, April 5.—G. H. Hart Jr., son of Attorney Hart, who resides at Durant street and Telegraph avenue, had a narrow escape from death yesterday while riding his motor cycle down Telegraph avenue. The machine is a tandem cycle, with a gasoline motor. Hart was racing to Hayward in company with M. W. Shaw, a university student, who was on the rear seat of the tandem.

They were going at the rate of fifty miles an hour, past Alcatraz avenue, when, without warning, the rear wheel collapsed.

Unable to shut off the power, Hart and his companion were thrown to the ground. Shaw fell away from the cycle, but Hart was dragged along a hundred yards through the dirt and over the car tracks before the motor came to a stop.

The unfortunate rider was rendered unconscious by the fall, his arm was dislocated and his face badly bruised. He was taken to Oakland on a car and his injuries dressed at the office of Dr. Wheeler. His most severe injury is to his head, where it struck the car rails as he fell.

He will be confined to his home for several days. Shaw escaped with a few minor injuries.

It is significant that in the acknowledgment of the acceptance by the other powers of the program suggested by Secretary Hay in his note of February 8, only in the case of Germany did the President send a personal message of appreciation to the sovereign.

MORGAN SMITH'S CASE CONTINUED

CINCINNATI, April 5.—The habeas corpus hearing of J. Morgan Smith and wife was adjourned until next Monday.

WOMAN IS GRANTED $20,000 DAMAGES.

ST. PAUL, April 5.—A special dispatch from Helena, Mont., says: Holding that the compiled statutes of Montana referred solely to railroads of commerce and not to street railway companies, the Supreme Court has effectively disposed of the case of Lizzie Hamilton against the Great Falls Street Railway Company, a personal injury case. Miss Hamilton recovered judgment of $20,000, but was made party defendant in a foreclosure suit brought by the Daly Bank Company against the street railway. She contested this on the ground that the statute made personal injuries preferred claim over mortgage. The District Court however, held it was applicable only to steam railroads which has just been affirmed by the Supreme Court.

STORY OF A SNOWSLIDE.

"When the Liberty Bell snowslide occurred," writes Dr. J. Q. Allen of Telluride, Col., "I was conducting a hospital for the mining companies. Receiving news of the slide I went to the mine, finding several men who were severely injured. After attending them I sent them down to the hospital. About 11 o'clock the first slide came down in the track of the first slide, starting a little to one side and burying several of those in the gulch searching for the dead and injured of the first slide. We then decided to leave the locality, taking the injured with us. After passing over the next slide and coming down into the gulch beyond, the third slide came down. This slide ran almost a mile. I was the last man in the procession. A heavy snowstorm prevailed, so that we could see only a few feet, but as I knew we were about to cross the old track of a slide I kept listening. Presently I heard the breaking of timbers far up the side of the mountain. This could be distinctly heard above the roar of the storm. Turning my horse, I ran him up the trail just in time to escape the main body of the slide.

"I was caught on its edge, however, carried off the trail with my horse and tossed, as by a wave, on the side of the mountain, where the slide made a turn. Four of us were struck by this slide and all were killed but myself. In all twenty-three men were killed at this place by slides that day."

CAUGHT THE FEVER.

(From the Philadelphia Press.)

"He was knocked down by an automobile, you know, and he got $2,000 damages from the fellow."

"Goodness! I wonder what he'll do with the money."

"Oh, he's spent it; bought the fellow's automobile with it."

DELOS PRATT HAS PASSED AWAY

PROMINENT RESIDENT OF FRUITVALE RETURNS HOME TO DIE.

FRUITVALE, April 5.—Delos Pratt, who has resided in Fruitvale since 1881, died at his residence on Davis street this morning at 6:30 o'clock.

Mr. Pratt was a native of Ohio, fifty-nine years of age.

He has been very prominent in this place, having been a member of the Board of Trade for many years.

He was formerly owner of the Forest Park tract.

He returned on Saturday evening from Jacksonville, Florida, where he had gone in search of health. Pratt went East some months ago with George Letcher, to stand trial for arson committed in Ohio. Letcher was convicted, but Pratt was declared innocent.

Mr. Pratt leaves a widow and two sons, Frank and Herman, who are residents of Portland and Seattle. These sons have been notified of their father's death and are on their way to this city.

The cause of his death was heart disease. Funeral arrangements will not be made until later.

PLAN FOR PURCHASE OF SELBY WORKS

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—A. C. Jopling and Judd Stuart of New York, respectively the attorney and auditor of the American Smelting Company, commonly known as the smelting trust, are here in connection with the deal of B. M. Baruch of New York to purchase on behalf of the trust the Selby Smelting Works in which D. O. Mills is the principal owner. An option on the plant has been taken by the Easterners and it is generally admitted that the purchase will soon be closed for about $1,700,000.

It is the same people who are buying D. O. Mills' big smelting plant at Tacoma for a consideration in the neighborhood of $4,000,000. Details in connection with both transactions are being perfected by Messrs. Jopling and Stuart.

A TERRIBLE PENCE.

Perhaps the most terrible penance suffered for religious reasons anywhere in the world is that of the monks of Nyen-de-kyi-buk, as described by Percival Landon in "The Opening of Thibet." The monks live in the ordinary manner during the novitiate; then they go into cells for a period of six months; then, after an interval, for three years and ninety-three days; later, for life.

And such a cell! "Almost on a level with the ground," says Mr. Landon, "there was an opening closed with a flat stone from behind. In front of this window was a ledge eighteen inches in width, with two basins beside it, one at each end. The abbot was attended by an acolyte, who, by his master's orders, tapped three times sharply on the stone slab; we stood in the little courtyard in the sun, and watched that wicket with cold apprehension. I think, on the whole, it was the most uncanny thing I saw in all Thibet. After half a minute's pause the stone moved, or tried to move, but it came to rest again. Then very slowly and uncertainly it was pushed back and a black chasm was revealed. There was again a pause of thirty seconds, during which imagination ran riot, but I do not think that any other thing could have been as intensely pathetic as that we actually saw."

AS SEEN IN THE FAR SOUTH.

(From the Florida Times-Union.)

While accepting laudations as the master of the Big Slab! It transpires that the President is placing every political element with an unctuousness never surpassed by McKinley. The Lou Payne negro gets "consideration" negro orators are accepted as fit business men, Rough Riders are sent to the cities where "gun play" is not recognized, and even the Democrats get something who worked for the "bigger navy." All the Federal patronage is being industriously worked by this exemplar of civil service reform who set "popularity" against the conservatism of the Senate. But because it is not stagnation we live in hope; Rome did not despair while Cato lived to keep liberty alive; and there should be many Catos in America.

AN IRISH LOVE DITTY.

If I said that your cheeks shamed the red rose's brightness, An' your step was a match for the mountain-dew's lightness, An' your bosom of love like the ocean foam swellin'—

Shure, divil a word of a lie I'd be tellin' O, sunny-haired darlin', O, blue-eyed colleen!

No wonder the village maids call you their queen, From castle-fairies, Blarney, To lovely Killarney, You're fairest and sweetest, my own Kathleen!

"Tis your smile, gra machree, that enraptures me only, An' the thought of it oft brings me joy when I'm lonely."

An' my slumbers at night your sweet presence is hauntin', But, oh, the awaken' to find you are wantin'!

Sighin' an' longin' for you, my colleen, From mornin' till mornin', from mornin' till e'en, Aye, divil a word of a lie I'd be tellin' O, sunny-haired darlin', O, blue-eyed colleen!

Close, close to this bosom, my own Kathleen!

FOUR BEAUTIES FIND NEW OAKLAND HOMES

Purchased by People Who Have Thoroughly Investigated the Piano Club Sale. Come Tonight and See the Greatest Display of Pianos Ever Shown.

Four more beauties went yesterday in the great Co-operative Piano Club Sale. There has never been anything like this offer in the history of Oakland and the Oakland people are taking advantage of it in a way that we appreciate. If you join forces with each other and buy your piano NOW—not a month from now—you will save just about 25 per cent. on it. That's what the Club sale means—Co-operation; and that is what the people are now so eagerly taking advantage of.

Do not delay any longer seeing these beautiful instruments and seeing the prices we are now quoting upon them. There are the world famous Hazleton Bros.—a make that has been a household word for over a half century; the Hallett & Davis pianos are in the scores; sweet-toned Lesters, many-toned Crown pianos, Decker & Son—the original Decker piano; Weser, Bros., Schumanns and a dozen other, equally well known makes lend a variety that cannot be seen this side of Chicago.

Think of being able to get any one of these at a saving of from $50 to $150 with a guarantee of money back if not as represented. And think of getting them upon payments of about one-half what you have paid heretofore—Club A pianos, for example, for $5 down and $1.25 a week; is there a family this side of the bay that cannot afford one?

If you really want a piano—if you really care for music—if you let

ALAMEDA BOARD IN SESSION.

PRESENTATION TO THE HIGH SCHOOL LIBRARY—ROUTINE BUSINESS.

ALAMEDA, April 5.—At the regular meeting last night of the Board of Education, Henry Michaels, one of the school directors, made a presentation to the Alameda High School Library of two sets of valuable books of reference. They are ten volumes of "World's History and Its Makers," and ten volumes of "Messages and Papers of the Presidents." Principal George D. Thompson of the High School was present and he expressed his appreciation on behalf of the school of the gift. Mrs. Gertrude Macomber was appointed to fill the vacancy in the Longfellow School caused by the resignation of Miss Edson.

The committee reported progress on the tennis court in course of construction at the High School.

Three of the present members of the Board of Education are to retire, their terms having expired. At the next meeting following the municipal election on Monday, the Board will be reorganized.

The school directors who will go out are C. A. Brown, W. W. K. Scott, and Henry Michaels, none of whom were candidates for re-election. Mr. Brown is senior member of the Board, having served for over a decade.

Miss Eva Fabian, assistant secretary of the Board, who recently presented her resignation, will not retire until after the next meeting, and the appointment of her successor will be left to the new Board.

Among those who aspire to the position are Miss Carrie J. Pratt, at present one of the staff of the Alameda Free Library; Miss Emma Hunter, and Miss Stella Brown.

On March 25th, Justice of the Peace William R. Geary officiated at the wedding of Frank M. Lind of 1213 Tenth avenue, and Miss Marion Taggart. Mr. Lind is just past 21, and his bride is but 15. The young couple furnished themselves a home on Twelfth avenue near Sixteenth street, and thither they went immediately after their marriage.

However, the friends and relatives of the young couple were not immediately informed of the fact of their marriage, and it was only a few days ago that Mr. and Mrs. Lind divulged their pretty secret. The bride was unknown to the Lind family. Her brother never had set eyes upon her until she was introduced to them as their relative-in-law.

Miss Louise Lind, a sister of the groom, stated that there could have been no objection to the bride, as they did not know either her or her family. She says that her brother married secretly because he thought it was a good joke on the family to get married without saying anything about it.

ST. LOUIS ELECTS DEMOCRAT

WELLS DEFEATS TALTY BY NARROW MARGIN IN HOT FIGHT.

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—Complete first returns from last night's municipal election give Mayor Rolla Wells, Democrat, candidate for re-election, a plurality of 1448 over Judge John A. Talty, Republican. The vote for the candidates was as follows: Wells, 44,208; Talty, 42,760; Lee Meriwether, Independent Public Ownership, 3,332.

Never before in the history of St. Louis has a Mayoralty election been fought so stubbornly. Until complete returns from the last ward had been received the issue was in doubt, and the official canvass of the returns may yet change the complexion of the result.

The other candidates for city offices either ran slightly ahead or behind their party leaders, and the Democrats and Republicans about equally divided honors for the offices other than that of Mayor. The proposition to increase the bonded indebtedness of the city by $9,000,000 for the purpose of making public improvements, which was strongly endorsed by Mayor Wells and his party, was overwhelmingly defeated. Two amendments to the city charter were also defeated by large majorities.

PASSION WEEK SERVICES AT NOVELTY

Beginning Monday, April 10th, continuing through Saturday the 15th, "Passion Week Services" will be held at the Novelty Theater, under the auspices of the Episcopal churches in Oakland, commencing each day at 12:00 p. m., ending at 12:35 p. m.

Rev. Herbert Parrish, M. A., will be the preacher, and the Rt. Rev. William F. Nichols, D. D., will officiate at the last service, Saturday the 15th. Through the kindness of the management, the Novelty Theater has been secured for these interesting services.

LARGE ENOUGH TO HAVE A JAIL

THE TOWN LOCK-UP TO MAKE ITS APPEARANCE AT POINT RICHMOND.

POINT RICHMOND, April 5.—Richmond is at last to have a jail. This structure will fill a long felt need, as heretofore all persons placed under arrest by local officers had to be taken over to San Pablo either by train or rig and incarcerated in the jail there.

The money for the building has been appropriated by the Board of Supervisors and will probably cost about $500. The site on which the new structure is to be built has been leased to the county by the Santa Fe and is situated near the intersection of Railroad and Tewksbury avenues, which is a convenient location for all parts of town.

The plans are to be provided by Superior Court architect, Charles W. Wade and Constable Bouquet and the jail will be built of steel. Work on it will probably begin in a few days.

TO BUILD WHARF

The Board of Supervisors yesterday gave a franchise to the Point Richmond Wharf, Dock and Warehouse company, for a wharf on the property of the Bay Shore company. The wharf will be received on the first Monday in June.

CHANGE IN DEPUTIES

Jack McHale, who has been the guardian of the peace and has watched the town at the hour when graveyards yawn, has been shorn of his star by Constable John Bouquet, and W. E. Striplin appointed in his stead.

However, McHale says the business men of the town want him to remain at the job, and he expresses his intention of doing so, even without the authority of a peace officer.

It is also learned that Geo. Dimick has been superseded by Frank Molitor, who will in future do the day work of deputy sheriff and deputy constable.

SIGN OF MILLENNIUM

On Monday, April 17, the county board will sell the "poor farm" near Concord. The sale will occur at the front door of the county house. The new board has concluded that we have no use for a poor farm; it is thought that the county will be able to realize about as much as the sale as the land cost.

BRIEFLETS

The dog poisoner is getting in his deadly work among the canines in Richmond, but the great trouble is the low-down atom of humanity kills off the good dogs—the kind that make the three meals a day and are content to lie down and sleep at night instead of sitting up and howling at the moon.

Rayley, county superintendent of schools, reports that the Carbonado school district had failed to maintain the attendance required by law and has therefore lapsed.

The large Diablo is at the Santa Fe today dumping a lot of stone east of the passenger slip for the purpose of strengthening the same. Resident Engineer Henderson is supervising the job.

A new school district has been formed from the Sand Mount school district. It is to be called the Jersey school district. The name of the Chinaman struck by a train at Stege a week ago, died Sunday night of his injuries at the County Hospital in Martinez.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. Thomas, Schand and Little son arrived from Sacramento Sunday evening and the family is now comfortably settled in their new home in East Richmond.

INQUIRY IS ON.

CARBONADO, Ill., April 5.—Former State Mine Inspector E. D. John who has made the only practical examination of the Zeigler shaft since the accident of Monday, stated today that the first explosion was from gas and that the second explosion was caused by powder. The coroner's inquest is still under way.

COGHILL SUES HIS PARTNER

Declares He Has Been Swindled Out of Large Sum of Money.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—Thomas B. Coghill says that he has lost over $30,000 through the alleged misappropriations of his partner, George A. Kohn, with whom he has been associated for seventeen years. The firm of Coghill & Kohn has been engaged in the wholesale grocery business at 300 Front street. In a complaint filed in the Superior Court Coghill states that Kohn concealed his fraudulent taking of funds by false entries in the books and by omission of cash transactions therefrom, Kohn directing the bookkeeper to cover up his misconduct in this manner. The bookkeeper was H. M. Fortescue, and it appears from the complaint that when Coghill discovered how the accounts had been kept Fortescue turned over to him some property to partly make good Coghill's loss. The actual value of the property is little or nothing, however, Coghill now says. He desires to have the partnership dissolved, and has asked the court to award to him all of the remaining assets of the firm to compensate him to some extent for the financial damage which he avers he has suffered. Kohn is resisting his partner's application.

Coghill in his complaint places the loss which Kohn has caused him at $32,306.87, and he states that the value of the firm's assets is $59,368.67, but this includes the assets of doubtful value received from the bookkeeper, and he thinks that not more than $25,000 can be realized. "The doubtful assets," says Coghill, "were turned over by the bookkeeper in restitution of the amount wrongfully and fraudulently appropriated by him in collusion with the defendant, Kohn."

DEFENDS FORTESCUE.

Kohn's first misappropriation occurred in 1895, when he took $4,614.74, Coghill alleges. A copy of his letter to his wife, Mrs. Eva Kohn, sister of Attorney E. S. Fisher, is attached to the complaint, it being dated August 2, 1898, and the main part of it being as follows:

"Dear Eva: I have left with Mr. Fortescue an accident policy for $5,000. This is for the purpose of securing to the firm of Coghill & Kohn a special overdraft, amounting to about $4,900, which I insisted upon being carried by him for me until such time as I should pay. So as to have no misunderstanding in this affair, do not stir up any unpleasantness for Mr. Fortescue, as I am the party who should have all the blame."

On August 15, 1902, Kohn paid $4,792.01 on account of an overdraft, which was kept off the books, but Coghill adds that he never paid back other sums that he wrongfully took. On that date he signed a statement in writing, exonerating Fortescue from blame, as to guard him against any action for dishonest book-keeping.

Each partner has obtained an injunction from Judge Seawell to restrain the other from doing anything with the assets pending the settlement in court.

NEW AMENDMENT GOES INTO EFFECT

The members of the reorganized Supreme Court are William H. Gabbert, Robert W. Steele, John Campbell, Julius C. Gunter, J. M. Maxwell, G. W. Bailey and Luther M. Goddard.

INVESTIGATION BY GRAND JURY

CHICAGO, April 5.—After a recess of three and a half days the Federal Grand Jury today resumed investigation of methods employed by the meat packers. The sixty-sixth witness was called to the stand. With the exception of the Stundt adjournment the jury, it is said, will now proceed steadily to the end of the inquiry. The United States attorney has announced that May 15 would probably see the close. It is said the hearing of the plea and demurrer of Thomas J. Connors, the indicted superintendent of the Armour company, will be disposed of before the jury presents other true bills involving persons on charges of tampering with witnesses.

FORMER MAYOR IS FOUND GUILTY.

URBANA, O., April 5.—In the case of Samuel Standish, charged with subornation of perjury, the jury has returned a verdict of guilty.

Standish is the former Mayor of Woodstock, at present a Justice of the Peace and a prominent politician. He was charged with inducing William Wooley to make a false confession of the murder of Wilbur E. Latimer, the Woodstock merchant who was killed over a year ago.

Wooley made a confession that he and William Nichols killed Latimer. Wooley pleaded guilty to the murder charge. When Nichols' trial was called Wooley alleged that Standish and Columbus Brown forced him to do so and his lawyers were arrested, released, on bond, and when found guilty Standish was placed in jail.

BOY IS ACCUSED BY HIS SISTER.

Marcus Causee was arrested last night on a charge of drunkenness and also battery preferred by his sister, who resided with her mother, Mrs. C. A. Davis, San Francisco, D. E. Hines, Reno, J. F. Courtney, Oakland.

PEOPLE BURIED IN RUINS

Earthquake Wipes Out a Whole Town in India.

LAHORE, India, April 5.—The hill station at Dharmasala was practically razed to the ground by the earthquake. The native quarter was entirely obliterated, many of the inhabitants were buried in the ruins, most of the houses in the European quarter were wrecked and nine persons were killed.

The people are sleeping in the open air, food is not procurable, and the great distress prevailing is a) situated by frost. The entire population is homeless and encamped on the adjoining hillsides without protection and practically entirely without medical aid.

A relief party was dispatched from here to Dharmasala today. The Europeans killed at Dharmasala were Mrs. Robinson, wife of the colonel commanding the troops there, and her two daughters; Mrs. Holderness, Captain Munro and four members of the Indian Civil Service.

Seventy natives were killed and many were injured when the native quarter of Lahore was demolished by yesterday's earthquake.

The Mohammedans here are parading the streets wailing and praying for deliverance from further visitations.

LIVELIEST SCENE ON THE STREET.

Greater Savoy Will Be a Model Shoe Store.

A large corps of electricians, painters and carpenters are working overtime to complete the new store for the Savoy. The entire front has been torn out, partitions removed, walls stripped of former papering and everything will be new from the basement up.

Monday and Tuesday the Savoy was incapacitated for business on account of the general tear-up but will resume Friday and Saturday, as stock is being placed notwithstanding the activity of workmen.

Many new features will be added to the store such as new individual opera chairs for patrons, new series of lighting and arrangement of the store to the greatest convenience of all patrons. Mr. Reis informed the reporter today that his stock would be in place for business Friday and Saturday.

ARE IN FAVOR OF IMPROVEMENTS.

CHICAGO, April 5.—By a vote that left no reason to doubt the final outcome when the country towns were heard from, Chicago has declared in favor of the $5,000,000 bond issue for a new court house. The votes cast for the proposition were 131,276 and those against 96,341, leaving a plurality of 34,935. This means, according to the plans of the County Board that a new court house will be erected at once.

The bonds will run from September this year and construction work will begin as soon as the issue is floated.

DISTINGUISHED CLAIRVOYANT

MME. REGINA RUFF, NOTED GERMAN AND AMERICAN CLAIRVOYANT IS HERE.

Famous Clairvoyant and Psychologist
Has Offices at Eva Building, 525
13th Street. Rooms 8-9.

Judging from the crowds that are constantly waiting in front of the parlors of Mme. Regina Ruff, the great German clairvoyant and psychologist, at Eva building, 525 Thirteenth street, and the truth of her remarkable readings must have been heralded from mouth to mouth. Some of the best citizens of Oakland have called upon her for advice and have gone away satisfied that she is truly a great mind reader. Mme. Ruff reads the past, present and future of changed life with an accuracy to command respect, and the correctness of her answers to questions with regard to matters of which it is supposed she knows nothing is enough to astonish one. She is not a palmist in any sense of the word. Neither does she claim supernatural powers, but she guarantees to give advice by means of her art that will prove of value in matters of business and love.

Mme. Ruff expects to remain in Oakland for some time, thus giving assurance of her upright and good intentions to fulfill every promise she makes to the public.

Mme. Ruff fully understands the responsible position she is placed in by the remarkable gift she is endowed with and she will try her best to help those who need advice. She does not use her power to show all of her callers plainly and in forcible language how to gain happiness and prosperity. Your wish in life can be attained; the secret you should know; the power to control.

The marvelous tests she has performed prove the magnitude of her strange and wonderful power.

DO YOU WISH TO POSSESS THE KEY TO THE VAULTS OF HAPPINESS, friendship, wealth and fame, or will you plod along, vainly hoping that luck or chance may open the door for you? Why not consult this gifted lady? She can and will assist you.

Her advice on business, speculation, investment, insurance, divorce, marriage, lawsuits, separations, wills, deeds, mortgages, collections, annuities, etc., is often sought and in nearly every case has given general satisfaction.

Were it not for the fact that secrecy must be exercised in her profession, she could refer the skeptical to numerous well known citizens who have profited by her advice and who have been made contented and happy by her readings of their past and future.

Like hypnosis, now materially aiding the medical world in healing the sick, so does the legitimate art of trance clairvoyance assist all those in quest of knowledge of the future. The truth of Mme. Ruff's assertions has been established beyond a reasonable doubt and she stands ready to leave the merit of her readings to a committee of unbiased, responsible persons. As she reveals to you thoughts hidden away among the deepest recesses of your heart, you will find it impossible to grasp the situation until calm moments possess you, when in awe and astonishment you exclaim: "How is it possible?"

Do not go to the madam with your mind made up to deceive her for so strong is her perceptibility and delving powers that she can easily detect any wrong intent on the part of a subject to willfully misinterpret her good intentions.

Mme. Ruff can be consulted at her offices, rooms 8-9, Eva Building, 525 Thirteenth street.

The pinkish mauves, light blues, pinks, apple-greens, and queer old-fashioned shades are all once more in favor, while there are many charming flowered silks that seem peculiarly well adapted to the fashion that is just coming in again of the fancy coat to be worn with the lace skirts.

ELECTRIC SYSTEM FOR S. P.

Plans Already Made For Changing the Local Road.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—With plans for converting the Oakland ferry steam lines into an electric road system, Chief Electrical Engineer Babcock of the Southern Pacific left for Chicago last night. He is to submit his plans to Julius Kruttschnitt for approval, and the local officials of the company think some change of this character will soon be made owing to the recognized cheaper cost of an electric system as compared with the present ferry system of steam roads.

Babcock was the man who substituted the electric roads between Sausalito and San Rafael and Mill Valley for those of the North Shore Company's steam roads. That change worked so well that Kruttschnitt hired Babcock to make a study of the Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda suburban service, with a similar substitution in view. Babcock has been engaged in this work for over a year. Having completed his studies in that respect and prepared his report and plans it remains to be seen if Kruttschnitt and Harriman think they are what they want and should be carried out with as little delay as possible.

The company realizes that more of this competition is sure to soon come and that is why it is getting ready to meet it in the handling of suburban business around San Francisco, San Jose and Stockton in particular.

WORKERS FOR SUNDAY SCHOOL

Stockton, where the State Convention is to be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will be the objective point of Sunday school workers next week. The leading speakers upon the convention program will be Marion Lawrence of Toledo, O., international secretary, and Mrs. M. G. Kennedy of Philadelphia.

Next Thursday, at 4:30 p. m., Mrs. Kennedy will address the parents and workers of Alameda county in First M. E. Church. At 8 o'clock a "welcome lunch" will be provided in honor of Mr. Lawrence and Mrs. Kennedy. All friends of the Sunday schools will be welcome.

At 8 o'clock, in the auditorium, Mr. Lawrence will deliver one of his characteristic addresses upon modern Sunday school methods. Mr. Lawrence is easily the leading Sunday school man of America, and as a speaker always reaches most effectively the large audiences that everywhere crowd to hear him.

Next Sunday afternoon, Mr. Lawrence will be the chief speaker at a Sunday school rally to be held in Alhambra Theater, San Francisco. On Monday he will address the theological students in Berkeley.

REPORTS ALL IS QUIET AT HAYTI

WASHINGTON, April 5.—A cablegram from Minister Powell at Port au Prince was received at the State Department today which gives assurance that everything was quiet in Hayti and that the cruiser Brooklyn, which went to Hayti waters on rumors of gathering revolution, has been ordered away. Rumors have reached Minister Powell of some trouble at Monte Cristi in Santo Domingo, but nothing of a definite character is known. Reference to the uprising probably relates to the disturbance reported a few days ago. The Brooklyn is going to Monte Cristi, where Admiral Sigbee will shift his flag from the Newark to the Brooklyn.

MAY PRECIPITATE A GREAT STRIKE.

CHICAGO, April 5.—Hundreds of men employed on railroad construction in the Southern States will be thrown out of work today as the result of strike orders just issued from Chicago. The edict came from officials of the Steam Shovel and Dredgers' Union, which has declared the contracting firm of W. D. Oliver & Co. "unfair."

Railroad building in Tennessee, Kentucky and Missouri will feel the principal effects of the strike. Unless the dispute is settled a spread of the strike is threatened to include the entire southern territory.

DIES AS RESULT OF AUTO ACCIDENT.

LONDON, April 5.—A private telegram from Monte Carlo says that Frank Stevens, one of the two Americans injured in an automobile accident near Monte Carlo April 3, is dead. Stevens' companion, Louis Hay, who was hurt at the same time, is making progress toward recovery. The body of Stevens will be sent to America.

SMALL BOY HURT.

REV. C. R. BROWN SPEAKS

MANY OAKLANDERS WORKING AT STUDENTS' CON-FERENCE.

SANTA CRUZ, April 5.—The attendance at the students' conference at Capitola has been swelled by the arrival of a large delegation of Stanford students. On Friday the delegates from the University of California will arrive. They will remain over Sunday.

Rev. C. R. Brown of the First Congregational Church of Oakland arrived yesterday. He spoke at the platform meeting last night. Mrs. James T. Cushman, one of the leading Y. W. C. A. workers in the East, also arrived yesterday. She brought greetings from the State committees of New York and New Jersey and of the Silver Bay conference.

Other leaders among the recent arrivals are Carlotta Moyer, secretary of the city association of Sacramento; Miss L. Gertrude Barker of Berkeley, formerly a missionary in India, and Miss L. A. Steele, a deaconess, who has charge of the railroad department in Los Angeles.

The student volunteers have started their meetings. They are in charge of Miss Robinson of Oakland. Rev. Horace Day addressed them today. Many of the college girls present have offered themselves as foreign missionaries.

At a meeting San Jose presbytery yesterday afternoon, by a vote of 17 to 8, defeated the proposition to join forces with the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. The most important business was the election of commissioners to the General Assembly. Rev. Francis Palmer, D. D., and R. E. Cairns were elected. Rev. W. G. Trower and Elder F. P. Percival were chosen alternates. Dr. Wadsworth, president of Occidental College, was introduced. He spoke in favor of the small college.

The speakers at last night's meeting were Rev. Walter Hays and Rev. O. E. Hart, D. D.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT IN SUNFLOWER STATE.

Makes a Speech Before Breakfast—Gives People Some Advice.

PARSONS, Kans., April 5.—President Roosevelt was routed out before breakfast today. The Presidential special stopped here at 7:30 o'clock to change engines and a crowd gathered around the special.

The President hurried his dressing and stepped to the rear platform, where he was cheered. The citizens of Parsons had sent the car a huge bunch of American Beauty roses which was placed on the breakfast table.

The crowd was not satisfied with merely seeing the President, and in response to a request for a speech he greeted the people briefly.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS.

The President in his speech here said: "Friends: I will just bid you good morning. I am so glad again to be in the Sunflower State. From the beginning I have believed in your people and I am more than grateful for the way your people showed your belief in me last November. It is not possible for any man in any position to promise that things will come right. All that he can promise is that so far as in him lies he will do his part toward making them right. This I can promise, and do. It is in one stage of life as it is in another."

"Right here I see one of the men who fought in the great war. All he could do in that war was to do his part well, to do all that lay in him well. And that is what each one of us can do, in whatever position he is called to be. It is because of what you and the average man and woman of Kansas have done that Kansas is so great a State, and it is what every man from the President right through has got to do if our country is to be what it should be."

GIVES ADVICE.

"To you people in Kansas, to you in whom I believe so much, there are just one or two things I could say in this brief moment. There is nothing peculiar in the qualities you need in government that differentiates those who govern the quality you need in having one private man deal with another. If a man is to be an advantage to the community in which he lives he must be a decent, square dealing man. He must be fair to his neighbors, who take care of his family. The same qualities in another sphere must be applied in public life if he is to amount to anything—honesty, decency, courage and common sense."

IN INDIAN TERRITORY.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., April 5.—President Roosevelt paid a tribute to the people of Indian Territory and commended them as eligible to statehood in a brief speech at Vinita, where a stop of two minutes was made at 9:08 a. m. The little city was more profusely decorated than any other place through which the Presidential train had passed.

As the train slowed down a salute was fired and the people on foot, on horseback and in vehicles of all kinds pressed about the train.

The President's reference to statehood was wildly applauded. He spoke as follows:

"I cannot say what pleasure it is to me to be today in the Indian Territory, which I earnestly hope will soon be a part of a great State of our union. I have never had the good fortune to be in the Territory before, but I had the great good fortune to have some of your sons in my regiment and better and truer men never I have known. They have done well in the great Civil War. All I need to say of them, speaking to you of the great war, is that we tried in the little war to show that we had some of the spirit that the men had who fought in the great Civil War."

"You will soon be part of one of the great States of the union (for surely we will see Oklahoma and the Indian Territory admitted into statehood) and when that takes place you will be the outset a great State. Then it will

AMONG THE GREAT SINGERS

CARUSO, NORDICA, BURGSTALLER, VAN REY WILL CHARM THE PUBLIC.

It was as the Duke in "Bigoletto" that Mr. Caruso secured one of his most marked and earliest triumphs in Italy, and as the Duke that he made his debut about sixteen months ago at the Metropolitan. The charm of his beautiful voice, the facility and brilliancy with which he interpreted that unflattering favorite, "La donna e mobile," the pleasing and off-hand abandon of his acting, and the simplicity with which he stepped into the position that had been occupied in turn by so many great singers, at once made Mr. Caruso the idol of the New York public. It ceased to swear, as it had sworn, by "Jean," and before him by Campanini. A new standard had been set, and a new tenor had come into his kingdom.

Mme. Nordica, Mr. Burgstaller, Mr. Van Roy and several other prominent artists, who will be in the cast of "Parsifal" on Friday evening next, at the San Francisco Grand Opera House, have sung at Bayreuth, although not in that music-drama, under the direction of Mme. Cosima Wagner. Mr. Burgstaller, the greatest of living German tenors, was a favorite pupil of the composer's widow, who herself taught him the parts of Loge, Siegfried and Siegmund, after he had been made known to her by Levy, then a great Munich authority. Mme. Nordica has amazed even her most ardent admirers by the ease and force, the beauty and intelligence, with which she has sung the difficult music of the enchantress, Kundry. Mr. Goritz, the baritone, who interprets Klingsohr, is said to have great dignity and dramatic significance to a part which less able artists have made vulgarly dramatic, and the Amfortas of Mr. Van Roy has been recognized by the Eastern critics as the most noble and impressive of his efforts; while Mr. Blass, the favorite American basso, is said to interpret the character of the devout Gurnemanz with charm, sweetness and sincerity.

The pictorial setting of the Metropolitan Opera House, "Parsifal" has been admitted to be vastly superior to that of Bayreuth.

The Lesson of Chicago

The city of Chicago has declared for the immediate public ownership of street railways by electing Edward F. Dunne, Democrat, Mayor over John M. Harlan, Republican, by a plurality of 24,248. There is no mistaking the sentiment expressed by this vote, for Judge Dunne was given a majority over all of 958.

The question at issue was whether public ownership should be put into effect immediately or whether it should be held in abeyance for twenty years. Both Dunne and Harlan were advocates of municipal ownership, but the former stood for putting it into immediate effect, while the latter advocated a policy of delay for legal and financial reasons.

So Chicago has not merely declared for the public ownership of street railways, but has declared that it shall come about at once. The result must be largely attributed to the greed, rapacity and corrupt methods of the traction monopoly, which have disgusted and infuriated the public. The street railroads watered their capitalization beyond all reason, and endeavored to make the public pay interest on the fictitious investment. They defiantly refused to obey the law or to pay their just proportion of taxes; gave a poor service and displayed a contemptuous disregard of the rights and opinions of the public. In addition they were constantly scheming to get through the Legislature and the Council laws and ordinances that would permanently fasten their grip upon the thoroughfares of the city. The voters have decided to put a summary stop to these abuses and violations of faith by having the city take over the street railroads.

It is the first experiment of the kind in the United States and therefore will be watched with interest all over the country. It may not be entirely successful, but it will be a valuable lesson to street railway monopolies in other cities. It is notice that the public will not perpetually submit to the methods which street railway companies have come to adopt of late years. Traction managers habitually treat a franchise as conferring upon them the ownership of the streets. Instead of serving the public property they treat their patrons as a master would his servants—with even more brutality. They contemptuously refuse to comply with the conditions on which their franchises were granted, evade payment of their taxes, defy ordinances designed to safeguard the public and protect the streets from injury. These evils have become so flagrant and universal that public patience has been provoked beyond endurance, hence the people of Chicago have risen in revolt against the monopolists who have taken possession of the streets and defied public sentiment and public convenience.

At the enthusiastic reception given President Roosevelt in Louisville, an admiring display was made of souvenirs of Abraham Lincoln, who was born in what is now Larue county. This is a striking proof that the sectional and class animosities bred by slavery at its resultant, the Civil War, have really died out. At last Kentucky is proud to boast that it was the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln, and her citizens welcome a Republican President with joyous hospitality. The croakers who declared a short time ago that Roosevelt had wantonly torn open the bloody chasm and kindled anew the fires of sectional hate are signally confounded. The South is sound and conservative at the core, and shows no disposition to be carried off its feet again by firebrand politicians. Petroleum V. Nasbry is dead and the Confederate Crossroads are off the map.

The idea of a concern which peddles its own unsecured notes of hand at twenty per cent discount talking about graft! It is an exhibition of gall that will make every gold brick artist in the country turn green with envy.

Evidently the Japanese are to receive another consignment of military stores. Russia is preparing to borrow another $100,000,000.

The Act Regulating Automobiles

Owners of automobiles had better make themselves familiar with the provisions of the new law enacted by the last Legislature regulating the operation of autos along the public roads and in unincorporated towns, else many of them will get into trouble through being ignorant of the statute. The act provides for a speed of four miles in business sections of towns and eight miles per hour in other sections, but the towns must keep proper notices posted. Auto owners and drivers must be registered, and the lights at night must carry the number. In case a fractious horse is met and the driver of the horse raises his hand the auto must stop until the horse passes. In case of accident the auto must stop and give information. There can be no prohibitive ordinances by towns or counties.

This law is timely because the rapid increase in the use of automobiles has made it necessary to define the rights as well as the obligations to the public of those running them. It aims to afford a greater measure of protection to pedestrians and the drivers of other vehicles against the recklessness of chauffeurs. Because of its superior weight, speed and momentum, the automobile can make everybody else give it the road, and it has become the practice of a certain class of chauffeurs to act as if they desired to chase everybody else off the highways.

A large majority of auto owners are disposed to be considerate of the right of others, but the reckless and freakish minority must be held in strict legal check if traveling on the public roads is to be safe. It has been impossible heretofore to distinguish one of this class from safe and sane chauffeurs, hence the average wayfarer has been disposed to take heed of discretion and to his heels when he saw an automobile coming. The wholesome regulations provided for in the new law will go far to remove the popular trepidation with which automobiles are regarded along country roads. It would be well if rural constables and justices of the peace as well as chauffeurs informed themselves fully regarding the provisions of the new statute.

Marse Henry Watterson will be glad he is in Europe when he reads of the enthusiastic reception Louisville gave President Roosevelt. He will be doubly saddened to think the Courier-Journal must chronicle the story of the President's warm greeting in Kentucky.

ANOTHER CAUSE AND THE CHIEF

Under the head, "Evil Tendencies of College Life," the OAKLAND TRIBUNE remarks that "the constant recurrence of theft scandals at the leading universities suggests inquiry into causes and conditions. There will always be thieves in every grade of society, it adds. 'The proportion should be smaller among college youth than in any other class or condition, but, unfortunately, thieving at higher institutions of learning is continuous and on the increase.' Two causes for this suggest themselves, says our Oakland neighbor. 'A spirit of extravagance has become prevalent of late years at colleges and universities, and the craze for athletics has swelled personal expenditure and aroused sporting propensities of the gambling type. In consequence we see students living beyond their means and indulging in pastimes and pleasures which they cannot afford.' Another and a more potent than either, it seems to us, might be added to the list of causes. We mean the absence of moral culture from the curriculum of these institutions. If young men were taught the principles of right and wrong and trained to apply them to every-day conduct, as part of their university education, the causes mentioned by THE TRIBUNE would be less influential.

It is, of course, taken for granted that matriculants are already formed as to their moral character before taking up their abode at the university; that they know the difference between right and wrong and have been taught to pay outward respect at least to the requirements of the moral code. But the assumption is not well founded as the tendencies noted by our Oakland contemporary sufficiently indicate. No definite ethical teaching is imparted to the students of many of the lower schools which act as feeders to the college. The moral training of children sent to these schools from homes in which positive religious beliefs have no place is therefore neglected during the whole course of their education. Human respect, fear of detection and the disgrace of exposure are the only restraints upon the vicious proclivities of many college students. 'The constant recurrence of scandals' is therefore not strange. Purely intellectual culture will not of itself make a man moral. It will not necessarily make him immoral, either, but it leaves him susceptible to the same natural influences toward evil, to which the uneducated are subject. The highest function of education is to teach right living. How is this to be done if the only logical incentive to live right be ignored?—San Francisco Monitor.

ON SIDE-ISSUE MAYORING

Mayor Mott, on taking office in Oakland, announced that he would devote all his time to the city's interest. That is right, and what ought to be expected. The practical failure of the last administration was due largely to the fact that the Mayor made the mayoralty a way station, to be administered while he tarried a minute or two each day on his way to his real office in another city. He was a worthy man, but apparently without much of an idea of what was due from a Mayor, or what was necessary to meet conditions that always usurp theories. It is to be noticed that he has retired to private life cynically remarking upon the disinclination of people to give credit to officers who try to serve their best interests. But the people are always more than ready to acknowledge real effort in their behalf. What they may be slow to credit is the effort of the man, possibly of good intent, but who comes into their service with fads and theories and half-baked ideas, all crystallized into a determination to thrust benefits upon the masses in spite of themselves. The man who gets along, if he can't achieve what he feels ought to be done, does the best he can.—Alameda Argus.

Cure For The Blues

ONE MEDICINE THAT HAS NEVER FAILED

Health Fully Restored and the Joy of Life Regained

When a cheerful, brave, light-hearted woman is suddenly plunged into that perfection of misery, the BLUES, it is a sad picture. It is usually this way: She has been feeling "out of sorts"

for some time; head has ached and back also; has slept poorly, been quite nervous, and nearly fainted once or twice; head dizzy, and heart-beats very fast; then that bearing-down feeling, and during her menstrual period she is exceedingly despondent. Nothing pleases her. Her doctor says: "Cheer up; you have dyspepsia; you will be all right soon."

But she doesn't get "all right," and hope vanishes; then come the brooding, morbid, melancholy, everlasting BLUES. Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone, but take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. See what it did for Mrs. Rosa Adams, of 819 12th Street, Louisville, Ky., niece of the late General Roger Hanson, U.S.A. She writes:

"I cannot tell you with pen and ink what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered with female troubles, nervousness, 'the blues,' nervousness and that all-gone feeling. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it not only cured my female derangement, but it has restored me to perfect health and strength. The buoyancy of my younger days has returned, and I do not suffer any longer with despondency, as I did before. I consider Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a boon to sick and suffering women."

If you have some derangement of the female organism write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice.

TENNESSEE ORATORY.

(From a Speech by Benton McMillan.)

There was a time when our commerce was carried in American ships manned by American seamen. There was a time when the flag floated over American cargoes, and when its bright, beautiful stars and emblematic stripes enlivened every sea and port where commerce was known. The American, looking out on the broad ocean, beheld it in the Orient and in the Occident. Whither he went—To the Northern wastes of snow, Or swayed where the soft magnolias blow—

It was there—there to remind him of his own native land, whose sons resembled in their strength the gnarled oak of her deepest forests, and whose daughters rivalled in their beauty and loveliness the orange blossoms of her most fragrant orange groves.

(From a speech by "Bob" Taylor.)

Hands that once stamped the tide of ruin and defeat at Buena Vista are held out toward us, all withered and empty; arms that wielded the sword and musket at Chancellorsville and Gettysburg and hurled the thunderbolts of battle at the gates of the Mexican capital are uplifted to us, unnerved and uncovered; bodies that felt the wrath and tempest of Molino del Rey are clad in tatters and rags; feet that once scaled with impetuous tread the heights of Monterey, of Chapultepec, are all shoeless and bare.

ONE OF WOMEN'S WAYS.

(From the Atchison Globe.)

When the women see the heroine in the hero's arms on the stage, when they read in the last chapter of a book that the hero and heroine are embracing, how they applaud! But when they see the man next door kiss his wife goodbye before starting for work how they laugh and wonder "how long it will last!"

FORMER EXPERIENCE PAINFUL.

The young woman had just said no. "Have you ever been rejected before, Mr. Englebert?" she asked, sympathizingly, and almost tenderly. "Once," he said, a spasm of pain contorting his features at the recollection. "By a life insurance company. 'I tell you it hurt—that time.'—Chicago Tribune.

MOTHERS Must Make the Home Interesting LOVE Crushed to Earth By the Husband's RICHES

WHY GIRLS ARE ANXIOUS TO LEAVE THEIR HOMES

BECAUSE

There is So Very Little Real Sympathy Between Average Mother and Child.

Undoubtedly the first reason why girls are so anxious to get away from home is because there is so little real sympathy between the average mother and daughter.

It is heresy to say this. We are in the way of thinking that the tie between the girl and her mother is the closest and most sacred in the world, but this is far enough from being the case.

It is true that there are few instances in which a real lack of affection exists between mothers and daughters, but cynically enough, this affection generally belongs to the category of blessings that brighten as they fade, and in the majority of cases it is only after a girl has left home and gone out into the world to work, or has married and gotten a home of her own, that she and her mother really begin to understand and appreciate each other.

The picture of a mother and a daughter who are real friends, and whose companionship is elective instead of being forced on them by nature, is a beautiful and poetic one, but in actual daily life it is as rare as an old master in a chromo factory.

NO NATURAL AFFECTION.
There is no other girl alive with whom the average woman feels as unacquainted as with her daughter, and there is no other woman in the entire universe to whom the girl could not more easily open her heart than to her own mother.

The mother wants her daughter to love her. She desires that the girl shall be fond of her home, and interested in it, but she does not know how to achieve these results.

The trouble is that all women depend too much on what they call natural affection. After a child is able to walk, and has ceased to depend physically upon its mother, there is no such thing as natural affection, which, after all, is nothing but animal instinct.

After we begin to think, if we love people there must be some reason of congeniality and they must have bound us to them by sympathy and comprehension and consideration. We do not love a person simply because the person is kin to us.

Every mother desires her daughter to confide in her, but how few make it possible for the girl to do so. The mother is only too often merely the critic on the hearth, who has forgotten it if there ever was a time when she was silly and giggling and delighted in the attention of callow youths.

MOTHER'S SYMPATHY.
It is no wonder that the girl who knows her mother is going to criticize her conversation lets her hear as little of it as possible.

It is no wonder that the girl who knows her mother is going to ridicule her friends meets them elsewhere, or that she is anxious to get away where she may enjoy the society she likes in peace; and this doesn't infer by any means that the girl yearns for wild or dissipated society.

It may be perfectly innocent, but it is merely the kind of society her mother doesn't enjoy.

Mothers are not nearly as sympathetic as they are represented, either. Generally a mother's sympathy narrows itself down to purely personal taste, and when you hear a woman lamenting that her Mary is "undutiful," or her Sallie is a "disappointment," it is merely a case of Mary and Sallie wanting to do something that their mother never wanted to do.

Not once in a thousand times does a mother rise to the heights of sympathizing with her daughter whose desires and ambitions are radically different from her own.

DIFFER IN TASTES.
If the mother is fond of society she is sympathetic enough with her daughter if the girl is a butterfly of a fashion but she does not and cannot enter into the thoughts and aspirations of the girl if she is a noble and serious-minded young woman, who cares nothing for balls and parties, but who desires to take some part in the great work of the world.

It is because the mother, to whom clothes are everything, cannot restrain herself from nagging and fretting at the daughter, whose thoughts are set on adorning her mind instead of her body, that almost every young woman who follows any career is obliged, in self-defense, to leave home.

The average woman never realizes that her daughter is grown up, and has the right of a grown person. Sometimes a mother will let her son do as he pleases, but as long as her daughters remain at home she considers that she has a perfect right to dictate to them about their clothes, what they shall eat, and think, and believe.

There have been old maids at forty-five who had never been allowed to pick out a pocket handkerchief for themselves, and I once heard a bride ejaculate the day after her marriage, "Thank God, I will never have to wear another pink dress"—a uniform she had worn ever since she was born because her mother happened to admire pink.

REVOLT AT BOSSISM.
Very few girls desire to do anything wrong, or yearn for the liberty that is license, but every one of them revolts against being bossed, and longs for the freedom to live her daily life without even a mother at her elbows always supervising her every act.

This is the reason that so many girls find the hall bedroom and liberty to do their hair as they please and "use the kind of a tooth brush they like, better than the satin-upholstered chamber at home with mother standing guard over it.

Girls find no interest in home because their mothers do not let them take any intelligent share in running it. Mother is willing that they should do part of the work under her eye like servants, but she will not let them manage things.

The girl does not intend to be a servant. She has ideas, theories, innovations that she longs to put in operation, and when she is not allowed to put these into practice, she throws up the job of helping mother and turns away from home to find an outlet for her energies.

It is a brand new idea that if you want girls to stay at home, you must make home interesting to them, but it is one with which mothers will have to familiarize themselves.

Lewin, recitation, "Baby Nell"; G. L. Courtney, "Scott and the Veteran"; Miss Mae Doling and Miss Mabel Richards, vocal solos; Miss Lilly Courtney and Miss Mara McEllen, piano selections.

An elaborate supper was served. M. Isaacs was toast-master, and S. F. Lewin was among those who gave clever toasts to the host and hostess. Several costly china pieces were presented to the couple.

LOVE BORN IN POVERTY KILLED BY PROSPERITY

NEW YORK, April 5.—Here is a little while died, too. I gave the $300 modern New York story of love, born in poverty, that was killed by great prosperity.

Jacob Fischel and his wife Dora loved and married in Lithuania, Poland, twenty-three years ago. They were children of peasants and were very poor, but Jacob was a carpenter and he hoped to live in comfort. Work failed, however, and he came to this country two years after the wedding, leaving his wife and their baby behind him. He lived in the East Side of New York for two years, but he was badly handicapped. He could not speak the English tongue, and he grieved for love and sympathy.

He got together as much money as he could and sent to Poland, begging his wife to come to him. The woman came over and together they lived, at first in direct poverty, when children came to them, and by them were laid in their graves; then to better times when servants figured in their household, and at last to that long dreamed of time when they had wealth, a country home and horses and carriages.

GETS TIRED OF HER.

Then the wife, who, all her life, had been a drudge in her home, lagged behind her husband, who had learned that there were more comely women than his wife, and sought, so the wife says, to throw her off. This she resisted, and at last Fischel applied to the law to rid himself of the woman who had been to him a helpmeet. The charge he made against her was cruelty.

Recently the case came up before Justice Glidersleeve, in the Supreme Court, on the application of Mrs. Fischel's lawyer, Abraham Hummel, for an allowance of $150 a week and counsel fees. Mr. Hummel said that Mr. Fischel had offered his wife $75 a week to leave him, but she had refused it. The hearing was postponed until Friday.

The woman is about forty-five years old, and so closely has she kept to her home and to the associations of her childhood, that she speaks but very little English. The services of an interpreter were necessary when she told the following story:

TELLS OF HER HARD LIFE.

"First we lived at No. 55 Orchard street. We had two rooms at $9.50 a month. I took three boarders and we all lived together with the baby in that small place. My husband earned $3 a day as a carpenter. It was hard, and my baby died. For three years we lived like that, and I saved $200. "Then Solomon was born and in a little while died, too. I gave the $300 modern New York story of love, born in poverty, that was killed by great prosperity.

"So we came back and lived in three rooms at No. 184 Forsyth street at $12 a month. We took two boarders and there our son Isadore was born. Then we moved to three rooms at No. 166 Division street, and then to 234-ridge street, where I kept boarders all the time and in a little while my girl Besale was born.

"At last the luck turned and my husband got a house to build and made $2,000. We then moved to five rooms at No. 22 Norfolk street, and I had a servant.

"In this place my child Ruby was born. My husband got money enough to buy two lots in Ludlow street. He built houses on them and had an equity in them of $5,000. One house he sold for $35,000 and the other he exchanged for a house in Henry street. Then we lived at No. 166 Henry street and paid $40 a month rent. My husband went in the general contracting business. He did so well that we lived in a private house at No. 179 Henry street.

HORSES AND CARRIAGES NOW.

"We were worth about $25,000, and we had three more children—Philip, Abraham and Beckie. Here we lived for eight years and my husband was worth then about $300,000. We had a horse and a carriage and a place at Hunter, in the Catskills. In May, 1901, we moved to the house at No. 123 East Seventy-ninth street, where we now live. The rent is $1,800 a year.

"We have three servants, three horses and three carriages in Hunter. I think we would have always been happy if my husband had not put $14,000 in the Grand Theater. He got to know different kinds of people, and pretty soon he thought I was too old and antiquated for him, and he was cruel to me. He used to use bad language to me, and once he struck me on the head.

"Until this time we had never a quarrel, and were as happy as we could be. Now my husband says that I have struck him, that I put poisons in his drink, and that I have gone to a fortune teller to work mischief for him. I never did these things. Even when I knew he was going away from me I said nothing. Once a big basket of wine and fruit came to the house from a woman who keeps a rathskeller, and from her I also found notes, but I said nothing."

Reynard and her sister, Miss Sinclair, will remain for a few weeks.

STARR KING FRATERNITY.

The meeting of the Starr King Fraternity will be held this evening in the fraternity rooms of the First Unitarian Church. Rev. Joseph Nieto, rabbi of the Congregation Sherith Israel of San Francisco, will lecture to the members, the subject of his discourse being "The Ghetto as Imagined and as It Really Is."

WHIST TOURNAMENT.

The South Berkeley Improvement Club will give a large whist tournament this evening in Lorin Hall. There will be thirty-five tables and a prize for each table.

The musical program is in charge of A. T. Sutherland and M. J. Miles and a kinelescope in charge of M. P. Rose will be a feature of the evening. The committee of arrangements includes P. F. Bradhoff, S. T. Green and Dr. M. M. Rowley.

SATURDAY PARTY.

The occasion was a party tendered by the elocutionist, Miss Hilma A. Buttlar, to her many pupils. The hours from two to five passed as if on wings.

GIRL DIES AFTER BREAKING SKIPPING ROPE RECORD

NEW YORK, April 5.—Louise E. Rivers of New Rochelle, 11 years of age, has sacrificed her life in a successful effort to become the skipping rope champion of her neighborhood.

To jump the rope 200 times has long been the championship record of the district. The child had often tried in vain to exceed it. When she began jumping in her last attempt, Louise looked as well as usual.

As she approached the 200 mark she was pale and tired, but she doggedly kept on jumping. At 218 the girl fell, screaming with pain and died shortly afterwards at the hospital. The doctors found she had been attacked by acute appendicitis.

25 cents For a Peep at Cassie Chadwick

COLUMBUS, April 5.—O. B. Gould, warden of the State Prison, sees a bright light ahead in the coming of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick as one of his regular boarders. Visitors to the institution are charged an admission fee of twenty-five cents, and as the former Napoleonean of Finance sews on hickory shirts for the men-convicts people will flock to have a look at her, for a time at least, and the Warden thinks that there will be a boom in the income of the prison. "It's an ill wind," etc., says the Warden.

If Mrs. Chadwick reaches the State museum within the next month she will be assigned to cell No. 9 in the women's department, sharing it with Anna Wilson, a four-year-term prisoner from Dayton, convicted of pocket-picking. Women prisoners are required to live two in a cell, and the Wilson woman is the only one now without a cell mate.

Mrs. Chadwick will be measured by the Bertillon system as soon as received and photographed for the "Rogues' Gallery." She will be searched, stripped of her fine apparel and given the prison garb of blue and white calico for weekdays and a black flowered sateen for Sunday. If she has any money it will be taken by the Warden and kept for her. She may spend $1 a week, no more. At 6 a. m. each day she will rise and prepare for her day's work. Her task will be four hickory shirts a day, with an hour's rest at noon and a half hour at 3 p. m. At 5:30 p. m. she may quit work if the four shirts are finished. She will sew by hand. Supper comes at 6, after which she will be locked in her cell. She may then read, but lights go out at 8:30. She will eat the prison fare, except for the $1 a week that she may spend, or friends may send in delicacies.

Cell No. 9, to which the noted prisoner will be assigned, is at the east end of the building in the upper tier, so that she can see over the walls, but when she looks out it will be over railroad yards and factory roofs.

Good Housekeeping gives the following recipe for cream of potato soup, an ideal Lenten dish: Boil and mash six potatoes, season with one-fourth pound of butter, pepper and salt and a dash of nutmeg. Add one quart of hot milk slowly, stir well and let it boil up; then strain through a sieve into the tureen. Rub the tureen with a tiny segment of garlic, or onion, if preferred, and beat an egg in it before turning in the soup. Serve with toast squares.

It is no longer fashionable, except in the very warm weather, to go about without some covering over the shoulders besides the dress waist.

SOMETHING FOR HOUSEWIVES

To clean a meerschaum pipe place the pipe in cold sweet milk in an earthenware jar stood in boiling water and let it boil very slowly.

Kettles should be cleaned two or three times weekly. From recent researches on appendicitis, the disease that has been so prevalent of late, home medical men think that very hard water and more especially water containing salts that are either in mere suspension or are easily thrown down must be regarded as one of the most common causes.

When water is very hard it is a good plan to boil the day's supply in a very large pot or kettle reserved exclusively for this and to reboll any required quantity of this for each meal. In many cases of kidney mischief it is a matter of life and death to get water free from saline sediment. Then it is best to boil the water and filter it through charcoal. It is useless to filter the water first.

Rubbing soap on flannels and other "woolies" generally means ruin to them. They should be washed in a lather made by adding soap jelly to warm water. Make the soap jelly before the washing day, so that you may begin work as early as convenient. Take as much soap as will be needed and shred it finely with a knife. Put it into a saucepan and cover it with water. Allow the soap to slowly melt over the fire till clear and without lumps, then pour it into a jar or basin and let it stand till required for use. When melting the soap do not boil it quickly and do not fill the saucepan, for the soap is very apt to boil over, and this not only wastes it but causes a disagreeable smell in the house. Any odds and ends of soap may be used up for the soap jelly, but it should be made freshly each week, for it loses its strength if kept many days.

Chiffon cloth is in favor again, while lightweight cloths and serges of all kinds are very smart. In fact, to have at least two serge costumes in the summer outfit is thought necessary, and the white serge and blue serge gowns that are always so useful will be tremendously smart this season.

is a grateful mother. "When six months old," she says, "my little girl weighed a pound and a half less than at birth. When one month old a scab formed on her face, spreading until it completely covered her from head to foot, followed by boils, having forty on her head at one time, and more on her body. Then her skin started to dry up, and it became so bad she could not shut her eyes to sleep. One month's treatment with Cuticura Soap

DEATH OF STUDENT ON THE RAILS.

Details of Fred Cooley's Sad End in State of New York.

BERKELEY, April 5.—The following extract from a letter, written by Geo.
Goldman '03, to Monte Cooley, gives particulars of the death of his brother, Fred B. Cooley, '03, who so recently shocked the college community. Mr.
Goldman was Cooley's classmate in Berkeley, and they took positions in the General Electric Company at the same time. Mr. Goldman wrote as follows:

"At the breakfast table Sunday morning Fred and I had decided to take a walk up the New York Central track and finally decided to walk sixteen miles to the neighboring town of Amsterdam. At Hoffmann's, nine miles from Schenectady, a freight train was coming along at about the pace we were walking and, thinking it would certainly stop in Amsterdam, we decided to ride the remaining seven miles on it. But the train did not stop at Amsterdam nor at the next station, named Ponda, but finally came to a stop about a mile above Yast.
So we got off as we were very cold, there being still much snow. We did not know just where we were, and so ran to the head of the train to find out. As we got almost up with the tender, the train started up and we decided to walk back. This freight train was on track No. 2, which is for West-bound, and we started down on the track No. 1, which is for East-bound. In other words, we were walking with our backs to the direction of the approaching East-bound trains. Just a little above where we got off the train, unnoticed by us, was a sharp curve in the track around a hill. To this add the fact that the receding freight train helped to hide from us the possible view of an approaching train until within about 100 yards of us. In fact, I did not realize the approach of a train until the locomotive had actually passed me. I instantly looked around for Fred, and was horrified to see him thrown into the river.

"I immediately got him out, but soon saw that he was beyond medical aid.
The train which struck him came to a stop after about 400 yards. The train men came back to help, but life was extinct. Soon after the Coroner arrived, taking charge of the body and removing it to Ponda."

MORGAN CONTROLS NEW RAILROAD.

NEW YORK, April 5.—It is possibly stated in banking circles, says
the Herald, that control of the Chicago Terminal Transfer Company has passed to new interests. It is understood J. P. Morgan & Company have bought a majority of the securities and intend to turn the property to a great trunk line entering Chicago, presumably a Vanderbilt road. Members of the firm did not deny the acquisition of the company, but said they could make no statement now.

This change in control is a sequel to efforts made since January when control of the company bonds was unpaid, to reorganize the affairs of the company. At that time the bond and stockholders arrayed themselves against each other and it is said now a purchase of control by the Morgan interests took the reorganization committee completely by surprise.

The company owns 760 acres, of which 50 acres are in the center of the business district with nearly 273 miles of railroad. It has a capital stock of $80,000,000 and outstanding first mortgage bonds of $16,500,000.

DEATH SHROUDED IN MYSTERY.

HOLLAND, Michigan, April 5.—A mystery develops here with the arrival from Las Vegas, New Mexico, of the body of Charles Defayer. Relatives of the young man understood that he had been killed in a railroad wreck.
When the body arrived, the words
"died of gunshot wound" were found penciled on the rough box enclosing the casket. An investigation has been started.

THE KING OF BLOOD PURIFIERS SSS

In every collection of things there is a superior, one that stands above all the rest and is known as the best, or king of its class. By its record of forty years of cures S. S. S. has demonstrated its superiority over all other blood purifiers and is known and recognized everywhere as the best—The King of Blood Purifiers. The people everywhere endorse it, and there are few homes where this great remedy is not known and used, and today there are thousands in all parts of the country who have been cured of diseases by its use and who are daily recommending it to those who are in need of a blood purifier. It has held the confidence of the public for this long period of time, and is more in favor now than ever before, because it does all that is claimed for it, and "S. S. S. for the blood" has grown to be a household saying.

One of its greatest claims to the title of "The King of Blood Purifiers" is that it is purely vegetable, being made entirely from roots, herbs and barks of the forests and fields, selected for their purifying and healing action on the blood and their fine tonic properties for building up and strengthening the entire system. Not so with the usual blood medicines, for they contain Potash and other strong mineral ingredients that derange the stomach and digestion and otherwise damage the health.

Bad blood is responsible for most of the ailments of mankind. When from any cause the Liver, Kidneys, Bowels or other organs of bodily waste become torpid, dull or sluggish in their action, and fail to carry out the poisons which are being constantly formed in the system, these poisons are absorbed by the blood. As this vital fluid is the very life of the body, nourishing and supplying strength, through its circulation, to every muscle, nerve, bone and tissue, disease in some form is sure to follow when it becomes contaminated.

Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Pimples, Boils, etc., while they show on the skin have an underlying cause which is far deeper—a por-soned blood supply—and until this is corrected and the blood made pure and strong,
the distressing itching and burning as well as the disfiguring, humiliating symptoms will remain to torment the sufferer. No amount of salves, washes, skin foods, rouge, etc., can reach the trouble; a real blood remedy is required. S. S. S. cures these and all other skin diseases, and when it has cleansed the blood of the poisons and impurities the cure is permanent and lasting. Rheumatism, Catarrh, Scrofula, Chronic Sores or Ulcers and Contagious Blood Poison are all deep-seated blood diseases. When the blood becomes contaminated with the poisons producing these diseases, the entire circulation grows polluted and vitiated, and these painful and dangerous diseases will continue to grow worse until this vital fluid is cleansed and made strong and healthy again.

In all these disorders S. S. S. has proved itself a perfect remedy, and has well earned the title of "The King of Blood Purifiers." It goes down into the blood and forces out all poison of every kind, all waste and foreign matter, and makes it pure and health-sustaining as nature intended, curing the disease permanently. Nothing reaches inherited blood taint or old chronic troubles like S. S. S., and being a strictly vegetable remedy it can be taken by old or young without fear of bad after-effects or injury in any way to the system. Not only is S. S. S. a blood purifier and system builder of the highest order, but a tonic and appetizer without an equal, and is unexcelled in cases of general debility, loss of appetite, weakness, that tired, run-down condition, lack of energy and force, and other distressing complaints common to Spring and Summer months.

If you have any blood trouble write us about it, stating the case fully, and our physicians will help you to get rid of it by free medical advice and will send books on the different diseases, which contain valuable information, without charge.

Residents living along the tunnel road that the Board of Supervisors of that county had promised to take some ac-

that the body of control by the Morgan

WOMAN WANTS A DIVORCE

Irene C. Munert, after submitting to terrible abuse from her husband, has brought an action of divorce against him on the ground of cruelty. They live on Central avenue in Alameda, and she charges him with threatening her life and beating her. Henry C. Munert, the husband, is a pattern-maker by trade, and she asks that he be made to pay her alimony.

Christine C. Gurnal has brought an action for divorce against Karl Gurnal on the ground of cruelty. She alleges that her husband's actions are such that she can no longer live with him.

A final decree of divorce was granted
Addie Atherton yesterday afternoon by Judge S. P. Hall from A. D. Atherton on the ground of desertion.

The Deudonnes are to have another session in court. A suit for divorce is now pending, brought by Victor against Katie, and after much quarrelling between them over the custody of their two children preparatory to the trial fight over the divorce, the parties have agreed to settle the matter and place them with their sister, Mrs. Meyer, at 1745 Fulton street in San Francisco, but with the understanding that Mrs. Deudonnes should have the custody of the children until she has filed affidavits with the court to the effect that when she went to visit them the husband and his sister abused her and called her vile names and took the children away from her.
She now wants him punished and asks to have the children given back to her.

ROOSEVELT THE FRIEND OF JEWS

LONDON, April 5.—Speaking at a Zionist banquet in London last night Israel Zangwill declared that in the whole history of the world the Jews never had a better friend than President Roosevelt. Referring to Great Britain offer of territory in East Africa he said the bulk thereof might be of use for rearing goats, but it was doubtful whether a settlement of 500 miles from the sea offered sufficient basis for a prosperous colony.

"If England really wants to offer a solution of the Jewish question," said Mr. Zangwill, "she should enable them to expand under the same self-governing conditions over a considerable adjoining area, so they might be inspired to colonization on a great scale."

Ballard's Horsehound Syrup.
Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy cough, oppressed, rattling, rasping and difficult breathing. Henry C.
Stearns, Druggist, Shillburne, Wisconsin, writes, May 20, 1902: "I have been selling Ballard's Horsehound for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it." 25c. per bottle. Sold by Wishard's Drug Store, Tenth and Washington streets.

There is no one article in the line of household goods that is so useful as the money as a good porous strengthening plaster, such as Carter's Smart Weed and trowel was to be used at the coming Belladonna Backache Plaster.

VERY FEW COMPLAINTS

Secretary Wilbur Walker reported in regard to the investigation of complaints against the Pacific Consolidating Company that but three complaints had been received during the past week, and that the work in this respect had been productive of much good. The congested state of things in some districts had been greatly abated and soon as the company had had a little more time he did not believe but that the work would be done to the satisfaction of every one.

WOULD SHOW PICTURES.

A letter was read from Miles Bros. of San Francisco calling attention to their new scheme of advertising by moving pictures, with an idea that the Exchange might use them at the Lewis and Clark Exposition at Portland. The matter was referred to the Alameda County Fair Commissioners, consisting of Directors Gier, Welby and Walker, to look into.

WANT MORE ROOM.

Director Brown made the motion that a committee be appointed to look for larger quarters, so that in case the Exchange should be moved to a new place
it could do so in its own rooms.
Director Craigie Sharp suggested after the Portland exhibition the Exchange would have a magnificent exhibit of blended country products and suggested that when quarters were chosen that they should be large enough to accommodate the exhibit. The suggestion was well received and Vice-President Schue-ler stated that he would announce the committee later on.

ANNUAL ELECTION.

Director Brown called the attention of the Exchange to the fact that the time for the yearly election of directors of the Exchange was drawing near, the second Tuesday in May being the time, and he suggested that a committee of five be appointed to select a ticket to put into the field. His suggestion was adopted and he appointed the following committee to serve on the Exchange that he had spent nearly a whole week in preparing a speech and started for the train at the appointed time. When nearly half way to the depot he discovered in checking his coat he had left his manuscript in another pocket. Without the data for his oratorical effort he felt that his presence would be of little service and he returned to his home at 10 o'clock, where he found the station Gier and Walker and the train had left.

WHY ARE TAXES HIGH.

Craigie Sharp stated that he had made a discovery, and it was this, that California pays about $10,000,000 a year in taxes, while the State of Illinois pays but $1,000,000, and the latter State has a population nearly three times as great.
He stated that California also paid a high rate as the State of Pennsylvania, the highest rate being paid by the Union, and asked why this was.

SPIRIT OF '49.

Wilbur Walker, in answering this, illustrated by a lodge he belongs to, in which he pays 1 a month dues. "When we buy a strange member from the lodge we have to wait nearly a year to get our money back from the Eastern lodge. Where we pay $1 a month they pay $1 a year and their treasures are small. We have not got over the days of '49. I hope some of us will never see that day."

ELECT MEMBERS.

The following firms were elected to membership in the Exchange:
Kohler Bros., 812 Telegraph avenue;
L. M. Babcock, 657 Twelfth street;
G. Magersalt, 981 Kirkham street.

TO VISIT MONTEREY.

The following invitation was read to the Exchange inviting attendance at Monterey at the placing of four more stones in the Sloat monument:

"To the President, Officers and Members of the Merchants' Exchange.
Dear Sirs: You are most cordially invited to be present at Monterey on Saturday, April 15, 1905, at the laying of the Governor Peter H. Burnett stone
(the first Governor of the State of California, December 20, 1846 to January 9, 1851), the Thomas O. Larkin stone (U. S.
Consul at Monterey, Cal., May 1, 1843, to June 23, 1848), the General John A.
Sutter stone (California pioneer of July 2, 1839), together with such other stones as in the meantime may have arrived, as will be named in the program of that day, and to be laid in the base of the Sloat monument in front of Fort Martineau on the military reservation at Monterey."

"To be on time, it will be necessary to take the afternoon train on Friday, the 14th of April, or the early morning train from San Francisco on Saturday April 15. It is expected that special rates for the round trip will be made by the S. P. R. R. Co."

Governor George C. Pardee, with the assistance of U. S. Senator George C.
Perkins and other ex-Governors, has been invited to lay the Governor Peter H. Burnett stone. For further information see the program on that day.

"By order of the Executive Committee, EDWIN SHERMAN, Secretary."
JOHN L. BROMLEY, President.

Major Sherman addressed the Exchange briefly and stated that the base of the monument, which is being built of stones contributed from various cities, was progressing favorably and is nearly completed, and promised one day to be a fitting memorial to the famous commander.

Major Sherman also asked for the loan of a trowel, which was presented to the Exchange by Frank Mott that was used to lay the Oakland stone. He said the trowel was to be used at the coming Belladonna Backache Plaster.
